POLES REJECT NAZI CLAIM

Hitler Summons Nazi Leaders To Discuss Danzig

Ponders Speediest Means To Bring Danzig Into German Reich

PLEBISCITE MAY BE FIRST MOVE

Nazi Government Sees Demand For Action In Poland's Reply

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, May 5.—The speediest means of reincorporating Danzig into the greater German Reich was taken under advisement by Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler today as ihs immediate answer to Polish Foreign Minister Josef Beck's speech repudiating Germany's claim to the free city.

The chancellor called a council of state at his mountain-top retreat above Berchtesgaden, summoning Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop to confer with him and the Nazi chieftains of Danzig and decide upon a plan of action.

To Talk To Fuehrer.

Von Ribbentrop, due to leave for Rome tonight for a meeting with Italian officials, was called to Berchtesgaden to be on hand when Albert Foerster, Nai leader of Danzig, and Arthur Greiser, president of the Danzig senate arrive to talk with the Fuehrer.

At this conference this afternoon, the fate of Danzig may be decided.

In his speech to the Reichstag last Friday, Hitler made his offer to Poland—a 25-year guaranteee of territorial integrity in exchange for Danzig and a rail and motor road across the Polish corridor.

He is not expected to repeat it. While Beck's speech was not considered necessarily provocative, it was emphasized in Berlin that he had been fit to state a case, leaving Germany with no alternative but to consider the best means of bringing Danzig back into the Reich with least possible loss of time.

Among the possibilities considered was that of a 'preliminary plebiscite' to record the feelings of Danzig's population itself. If cast today, the referendum would doubtlessly be almost 100 per cent Nazi, for the city is even now part of Germany in all but title.

The other alternative would be an "appeal" by Foerster and Greiser, as leaders of Danzig, for establishment of a German "protectorate, over the city such as the Fuehrer established in Bohemia and Moravia.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Two different kinds of auto license plates are being used by Michigan motorists this year. Pa Newc observed one of the special plates, which was issued for an exposition on transportation held in Michigan, which is a dark blue color, with white letters. Underneath the license numerals, is the inscription "Pass Exp 8-31-39." The regular Michigan license plates issued for this year is cream colored with black letters.

Autoists who drive the extension of Hazlecroft avenue from Mercer street to Wilmington avenue are anxious that the top surface be put on the roadway. The street was improved last fall, but was not surfaced. As a result the limestone top is now badly pitted and the road is badly in need of attention.

Decorations are being put up in the downtown section in view of the District Rotary convention in this city next week. Rotary emblems and colors will appear on many buildings and some of the streets.

General impression in Berlin was that Beck had retreated to some extent for, contrary to advance advices, he made no actual demands upon Germany.

France Will Brook No Interference With Poland Says Premier

(International News Service)

PARIS, May 5.—Premier Edouard Daladier of France informed the world today that France will brook no German interference with Poland.

The French warning to the Reich was delivered, in the form of a strongly worded official statement, shortly before Polish Foreign Minister Josef Beck delivered his reply to Germany's demands in an address before the parliament in Warsaw.

(Beckground note: In his Reichstag speech a week ago, Chancellor Hitler denounced the German-Polish non-aggression pact and declared Germany insisted upon return of the free city of Danzig and a German right-of-way across the Polish corridor.)

Daladier's statement was issued in the light of the removal of Soviet Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinov from his post. Indirectly but unmistakably, Daladier emphasized the determination of France to go to war beside Poland should the Warsaw government deem military action necessary.

Position Not Changed

"Under the present circumstances I cannot wait," said Daladier. "I must state immediately that the po-

Nazi Government Looks To Diplomatic Fences

By PIERRE J. HUSS

BERLIN, May 5—Chancellor Adolf Hitler's government looked to its diplomatic fences today as the Berlin-Warsaw dispute over Danzig and the Polish Corridor reached a turning point with the parliamentary speech of Polish Foreign Minister Josef Beck.

Nazi authorities were obviously intensely interested in Beck's reply to the Fuehrer's demands for restoration of the Free City of Danzig to Germany and for a German highway across the Polish Corridor linking Pomerania and East Prussia.

At the same time, the government pressed forward with diplomatic moves evidently intended to strengthen the position of the Reich in the event of any conflict arising from the current crisis.

Believe Schnieder Was Suicide Victim As Body Is Found

Will Take Body Of Former Pendergast Associate To Kansas City For Identification

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, May 5.—A body believed to be that of Edward L. Schneider, missing business associate of "Boss" T. J. Pendergast, was found today in the intake of a waterworks situated between North Kansas City and Liberty, Mo.

The body was being brought to a Kansas City funeral home where an attempt will be made to identify it as that of Schneider, who was an executive of T. J. Pendergast's Ready Mixed Cement company and an officer in six other of Pendergast's holdings.

Schneider last Friday testified before the federal grand jury which re-indicted Pendergast on charges of income tax evasion.

Police said that a ring, bearing the initials "E. L. S." was on a finger of the drowned man.

Subway Service Is Curtailed By Coal Shortage

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 5—Six women fainted at Times Square subway station today as curtailment of subway service, resulting from rapidly diminishing coal supplies, jammed the underground terminal with unprecedented crowds during the morning rush hour. The women were carried out of the traffic crush for medical treatment.

Police guards were established at all major transit points and extra platform men were assigned by the various subway system as a 25 per cent reduction in passenger-carrying service necessitated by the coal shortage went into effect.

Local Man Leaves For Africa Monday

T. Kenneth Miller, son of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Miller, 324 East Moody avenue, will board the steamer Queen Mary, Monday morning, enroute to Port Elizabeth, South Africa, where he will manage the Firestone Rubber company interest.

After spending six years in India, where he headed the company interests, he returned to the Akron office.

Midwest Miners Join Coal Strike

Estimate 82,000 Join Eastern Miners In Coal Operations Tieup

STRIKE ORDERED BY JOHN L. LEWIS

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 5.—The soft coal strike became nationwide in scope today as an estimated 82,000 bituminous miners went on strike in the midwest, south and Rocky Mountain region.

The miners went on strike in response to a call from the United Mine Workers of America, already on strike in the Appalachian region as a result of failure to reach agreement with operators after two months' negotiations.

The work stoppage, affecting chiefly the big coal producing states of the midwest, was ordered by U M. W. chief John L. Lewis effective last midnight.

In addition to those quitting work today 2,500 other bituminous miners were idle in the state of Washington. These men struck at midnight yesterday with the explanation from the leaders they had received

New Castle Is Chosen As Site For Fall Meet

Fall Convention Of Four County Library To Be Here In November

New Castle Free Public library has been chosen as host for the fall meeting of the Four County Library club, to be held sometime in November of this year.

Arrangements for this event in New Castle were made at the spring session of the organization, held Thursday in the Laughlin Memorial library at Ambridge.

Among those at the Ambridge meeting from Lawrence County were: Miss Alice Sterling, New Castle Librarian; Miss Rose Barber, reference librarian; Miss Sarah Mervis, Branch librarian; and Mrs. Gladys Kyle, assistant, all of the local library; and Mrs. Catherine M. Charles, librarian at Ellwood City.

Miss Sterling led a panel discussion during the afternoon session of the meeting.

Relief Boards To Be Approved

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 5—Confirmation by the senate of all county relief boards members excepting those "personally objectionable" to individual senators was assured today.

At the same time there was no indication that the Democrats would relent on other appointments of Gov. Arthur H. James which have been denied confirmation for weeks, among them those of Maj. Lynn G. Adams as motor police commissioner and John Siggins of Warren as public utility commissioner. Sen. G. Mason Owlett, Tioga, Republican floor leader, expressed confidence, however, that the Democrats would eventually confirm Siggins and another P. U. C. commissioner still to be named.

Operators And Miners In Last Attempt At Tie-up Settlement

LOOK TO PRESIDENT TO ACT IN FAILURE

Effects Of Nation-Wide Mine Tieup Are Becoming More Serious Daily

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 5.—Appalachian coal operators and mine union leaders this afternoon acceeded to a a federal mediator's plea that they resume negotiations aimed at formulating a new wage-and-hour pact for the soft coal field.

NEW YORK, May 5.—Direct and speedy efforts by the federal government and possibly by President Roosevelt to end the nation-wide suspension of work in the soft coal fields were expected today unless union leaders and mine operators can effect a last minute agreement to continue negotiations on a new labor contract at their final meeting today.

New York, the nation's largest city, is threatened with a crippling of its normal life. Mayor F. H. LaGuardia warned in approving a drastic curtailment of subway and elevated service to conserve what little coal for power purposes there remains.

Effects More Widespread

The paralyzing effects of the bituminous shortage became more critical and widespread as under orders from John L. Lewis, leader of the United Mine Workers, another 100,000 or more miners in 14 middlewestern states laid down their tools in join the 320,000 men in the Appalachian area who have been idle since April 1.

A 25 per cent reduction of service went into effect on two of New York City's three subway and elevated transportation systems to conserve their rapidly dwindling coal supplies as long as possible.

A paralysis of steam-propelled traffic in New York Harbor, the nation's busiest, was also threatened.

Curtailment Faced

Railroads and factories which have been suffering from a lack of fuel for several weeks, faced further curtailment. Many municipalities were threatened with disruption of their vital municipal services.

A formal statement announcing the final disagreement between the operators and union leaders was announced yesterday afternoon. The final concession of the operators, a

Victim Of Fall Passes Away At Hospital Today

Clyde C. Morrow Fails To Recover From Injuries Sustained Tuesday

Failing to recover from injuries sustained when he fell from a ladder at third floor height Tuesday, Clyde C. Morrow, aged 63, of 320 Reis street, died at 11 a. m. today in the Jameson Memorial hospital. Mr. Morrow is survived by his wife, Ella M. Morrow.

Mr. Morrow was engaged in painting the exterior of a house at 209 Lincoln avenue, when the accident occurred.

The body will be at the Rice funeral home tonight for friends to call.

Complete funeral arrangements will be announced in Saturday's edition of The News.

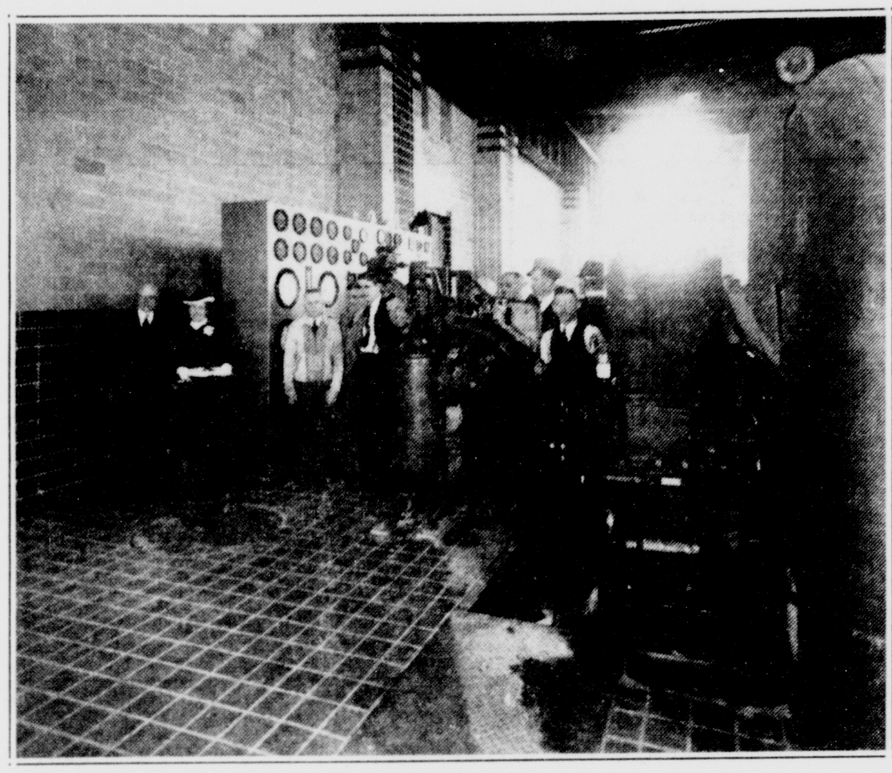

Extend Hard Coal Agreement Another Week

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 5—The wage-and-hour agreement governing the anthracite region of northeastern Pennsylvania today was extended by deadlocked negotiations until May 13.

It marked the second extension—each of a week's duration—since the scheduled expiration date for the pact on April 30 last.

As New Power Plant Started Operation

TURNING VALVE TO START PENNA. POWER CO. NEW PLANT

Mrs. L. B. Round, wife of the Vice President and General Manager of the Pennsylvania Power Company, gave the steam throttle at the new power plant near New Castle its first turn yesterday, releasing steam to the giant turbine.

The unit was slowly brought up to its full speed of 3600 revolutions per minute, and at 6:14 P. M. it was tied into the Company's transmission system and generated electric energy for the first time.

Despite the myriad of intricate details and delicate mechanisms involved, everything functioned perfectly and the huge machine responded in fine shape.

The starting-up operations were carried on under the supervision of John Mikels new superintendent of the plant, and engineers from the Westinghouse Company which designed and built the unit. Engineers from Commonwealth & Southern Corporation, Ohio Edison Company and Consumers Power Company also observed the operations.

Plans call for stepping up the load on the generator today and possibly bringing it up almost to full load. Within a short time it will be on a full time operating basis.

The date for the formal public opening of the plant has definitely been set for June 29th, with public inspection of the plant scheduled for three days up to and including July 2nd.

Supreme Council Of Soviet Union Called For May 25

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

MOSCOW, May 5.—The supreme council of the Soviet Union (the Soviet parliament) today was convoked for an extraordinary session May 25.

Closely following a shift in the foreign commissariat and termination of censorship over the foreign press, the special session is the first of its kind held since the new parliament was created under the constitution of June 25, 1936.

The supreme council consists of two chambers, which are divided according to trades and nationalities.

Censorship of outgoing news dispatches sent by foreign correspondents in Soviet Russia has been abolished, according to an official announcement today.

Mussolini May Seek To Settle Danzig Issue

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 5.—Premier Mussolini will intervene in the German-Polish dispute over Danzig and the Polish corridor, the London Daily Mail said today.

Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano has been ordered to explain Il Duce's plan for settlement of the controversy to German Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop when they meet this week and at Lake Como, the paper stated.

Mussolini's program was reported to call for restoration of Danzig to the Reich but with provisions protecting Poland's maritime outlet there and at Gydnia.

Man Stabs His Common-In-Law Wife To Death

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 5—In a revival of a month-old quarrel, Valenti Di Marco, 40, of Essington, near Chester, today stabbed his common-law wife to death with a butcher knife in the kitchen of her grandfather's home in North Philadelphia, police reported.

Police arrested Di Marco fleeing from the scene a block away from the house where they found Anna Schaffer, 32, dying of three stab wounds in the arm, hand and abdomen. Present in the house also was a man who identified himself as Ulrich Benoit, 35, a commercial artist, authorities said.

Notable Welcome Given Nicaraguan President

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 5.—A one-time traveling accountant for an American automobile concern today receives a welcome to Washington by President Roosevelt with the highest honors accorded a visiting celebrity since the late Queen Marie of Rumania.

Gen. Anastasio Somoza, president of Nicaragua, is the 43-year-old ex-bookkeeper who, with Senora Somoza, faces the most glittering 24-hour display of official pageantry that the national capital has extended the head of a visiting state in years.

Notable Welcome

His tiny central American country has a population of only 750,000 but President Somoza, by order of President Roosevelt, is receiving a welcome identic to that which will be extended King George and Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain next month.

This morning, 10,000 army troops, cavalry, sailors, marines and police were drawn up at Union Station and along Pennsylvania avenue's parade route. Thirty ten-ton army tanks stood by to escort the Nicaraguan executive and his wife to the White House. The U. S. Marine band and the U. S. Navy band were placed for full honors.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt and the heads of government and their wives donned formal clothes to greet the nation's official guests at the station as they step from the train shortly before noon.

A diplomatic reception, luncheon trip to Mount Vernon and to the tomb of the unknown soldier, and a state dinner attended by the 50 ranking government heads will carry the ceremonious day to a midnight close.

TWO INJURED IN CITY CRASH

Driver Swerves Car To Avoid Hitting Cement Block; Accident Occurs

Two persons were injured in a motor car crash at 9 p. m. Thursday at Highland and Garfield avenues.

The injured:

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Williams, Winter avenue. Williams sustained a laceration of his head. Mrs. Williams received injuries to a leg and suffered from shock.

Williams drove one car, and Joseph C. Tanner, R. D. 3, operated the other auto.

According to reports, Tanner was driving north on Highland avenue. His car was preceded by a Ford auto. A cement block fell off the bumper of the Ford. Tanner swerved his auto to avoid hitting it, a report to police stated. Williams was driving south and the two cars crashed.

A physician attended the patients in the home of a nearby resident.

Appoint Attorney To Defend Brest

Former Assistant U. S. Attorney Named By Pittsburgh Judge To Defend Kidnaper

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 5.—Zeno Fritz, a former assistant United States attorney here, was appointed today by Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker to act as counsel for Harold Martin Brest, former Sharon kidnaper who claimed he was given an illegal life term to Alcatraz prison.

Brest recently won freedom from the "Rock" on the contention that he had not been offered an attorney when he pleaded guilty to two bank robberies and a kidnaping on June 20, 1937. At that time he was sentenced to life imprisonment for snatching D. Lester Santee, of Sharon, and to 50 years for the bank robberies.

Fritz also will represent Brest's co-defendant, James Logan, of Becks Run, who is seeking his release from Alcatraz on a similar technicality.

Beck Presents Reply Of Poland To Nazi Demand

Repudiates Hitler's Outright Claim To The Free City Of Danzig

WOULD NEGOTIATE OUTSTANDING ISSUES

Common Polish-German Guarantee Is Proposed For Free City

By LESTER KIRKIEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WARSAW, May 5.—In a militant speech, Foreign Minister Josef Beck of Poland today repudiated Adolf Hitler's outright claim to the free city of Danzig, but declared his willingness to negotiate all outstanding issues if Nazi Germany will manifest its "peaceful intentions."

Hitler's demands upon Danzig and the Polish corridor, Beck said, are "one-sided."

Stands By Its Rights

"Poland," he declared, "stands firmly by its rights of overseas trade and its maritime policy in Danzig."

His nation has no intention, Beck added, of erecting a barrier between Germany and East Prussia.

Admitting that the population of Danzig is predominently German, but insisting that its "livelihood and prosperity" depend upon Poland, Beck reiterated Poland's proposal for a common Polish-German guarantee of the free city.

"When I hear demands for annexation of Danzig to the Reich," he said, "when I receive no reply to our proposal of March 25 for a common guarantee of the rights of the free city, when I learn that this has been interpreted as a refusal to negotiate, I must ask:

"'What is the real aim of all this? Is it meant to bar Poland from the Baltic, from which Poland will not let herself be barred'?"

Danzig was not "invented" by the treaty of Versailles, Beck said in answer to Hitler's claims.

"It has existed for centuries," he said, "as a positive 'cross' (interpreted as division) between Polish and German interests. The very reason for existence of the city is that it lies at the mouth of our only great river (the Vistula.)

"This is a fact that no new formulas can change.

Fireworks Ban May Be Voted On Next Monday

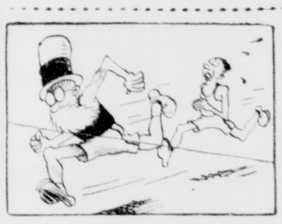

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 5.—Accompanied by bitter battling, legislation to ban the sale of fireworks in Pennsylvania today moved slowly and not too surely toward a scheduled vote Monday in the senate.

Proponents of anti-fireworks legislation, who charged that continued failure by the legislature to pass a regulatory measure had become "a public scandal," scored an unexpected victory when the senate judiciary special committee reported out the drastic Republican-sponsored, house-approved Tahl-Hamilton bill.

The bill was amended in committee, however, to permit the sale of paper cap pistols, thus running counter to the sentiments of an overwhelming majority in the house which refused to sanction such an amendment.

Britain Still Negotiates With Soviet

Anti-Aggression Move Continues

Prime Minister Chamberlain Gives Information To House Of Commons

LITVINOV MOVE NOT EXPLAINED

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 5. — Great Britain is still negotiating with Soviet Russia regarding inclusion of the U. S. S. R. in a European anti-aggression bloc, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain informed the house of commons today.

The prime minister made his statement at the same moment that Polish Foreign Minister Josef Beck was replying to Germany's demands regarding Danzig and the Polish corridor in a parliamentary address at Warsaw, and while London diplomats sought to ascertain the exact significance of Maxim Litvinov's removal as Soviet foreign commissar.

Door Not Closed

Initial British reaction to Becks' speech was that he had not closed the door to further negotiations with Germany and that it was more moderate in tone that generally anticipated.

The stock market firmed slightly on first reports of his address.

"Discussions of various proposals and counter-proposals are still proceeding with the Soviets," said Chamberlain, adding that the talks also were proceeding with "other interested governments."

"At no stage," said Chamberlain, "has there been an avoidable delay on the part of his majesty's government in pressing forward with these discussions.

"A communication was received yesterday from the French government, and it is hoped to send a further expression of his majesty's government's views to Moscow in the nearest future."

sition of France has not changed. It will not change."

"Events abroad have confirmed the necessity of a policy of vigilance and firmness. By the dissemination of inexact information and tendencious commentaries, certain people wish to misrepresent reality in order to attempt either to shake the resolution of the government of the nation or create uncertainty and cloud the clarity and straightforwardness of French policy.

"I cannot condemn too strongly such distortion of the truth. The international situation has reached a point where, amid the diversity and complexity of many problems, a single one becomes uppermost in importance. That one is the question whether domination or a spirit of collaboration shall rule Europe.

"It is in fact the security of France which is in question, and also the future of civilization. The French people know this and their determination is unshakeable."

to be launched, as a possible prelude to some as yet undisclosed move by the Rome-Berlin axis.

Anticipated developments in Italy assumed a vital importance on Europe's diplomatic horizon following the arrival of San Remo, Italy, of Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering for what was announced in Berlin as a resumption of his best cure. (Some reports from Rome indicated Goering may confer with Premier Mussolini.)

At the same time another important power in determination of German foreign policies, Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop, planned to journey to Lake Como to confer with Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano.

On another front, too, Germany moved ahead with its campaign to break the so-called anglo-French campaign to "encircle" the Reich.

An official announcement stated Germany has reached an agreement in principle for a non-aggression pact with Latvia. The announcement also stated the Reich had made progress in similar negotiations with Estonia.

MIDWEST MINERS JOIN COAL STRIKE

Lewis's 15-day notice of the strike one day before other non-Appalachian districts were notified.

Some Miners Remain At Work

None of the districts in which the strike began today were expected to suffer immediately from a soft coal shortage. In Illinois, where 25,000 UMW miners were affected, the coal demand was expected to be met easily by 18,000 progressive union miners who continued to work.

About 6,000 Indiana miners walked out, but in this state too there was some coal on hand.

Some 15,000 western Kentucky miners joined the 30,000 miners already on strike in the eastern part of the state, but several large mines operated by non-union labor announced they would continue operation.

This situation also applied in Tennessee, where about 3,000 UMW miners struck. Non-union operated mines in that state were not interrupted.

20,000 Lewis Miners Out

Sufficient supplies for the time being were on hand in the Rocky Mountain states, where more than 20,000 Lewis miners walked out. At least 12,000 men struck in the Colorado-New Mexico soft coal district; 7,000 went out in Utah and Wyoming, and about 1,600 stopped work in Montana.

In Iowa an estimated 8,000 miners were affected by the strike order while 5,000 more quit in Kansas and Missouri.

So far as was known no trouble was anticipated in any of these areas except possibly in Kentucky where state policemen patrolled closed mines. In the eastern area, where all mines were shut down, the state police had to escort non-union men from workings whose operators had attempted to remain active in defiance of the UMW edict. At the state capital in Frankfort, however, Gov. A. B. "Happy" Chandler said he would not call out the militia for mine patrol duty" unless it becomes absolutely necessary."

EXPECT ACTION BY GOVERNMENT IN COAL STRIKE

modified form of closed shop, was found unacceptable by Lewis. The union leader grimly remained firm in his demands for either an unconditional closed shop or abolition of the penalty for unauthorized strikes.

Dr. John R. Steelman, the specially appointed federal mediator, was expected to make a fervent plea for a continuance of negotiations at the meeting today. The full Appalachian committee of 32 representatives of the mine owners and an equal representation from the U. M. W. A. was formally convened to receive the discouraging report of disagreement from the stalemated subcommittee of eight, four from each side.

Perkins Optimistic

Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins hastened to the White House for a brief, informal conference with President Roosevelt late yesterday afternoon when the sub-committee reported failure. She continued to maintain an optimistic attitude over the possibility for a solution at today's meeting. Dr. Steelman, entrusted with his first major mediatory task in the coal crisis, and James Francis Dewey, his aide, remained in New York.

(Background note: When the coal situation became threatening several weeks ago, it was informally announced at the White House that President Roosevelt would not intervene until all means of federal mediation were exhausted. That state has now apparently been reached unless by some eleventh hour maneuver a final break between the operators and miners is averted.)

Deaths of the Day

Cassandra Aiken.

Following an illness of about a year, culminating in a cerebral hemorrhage, Miss Cassandra Aiken of 317 East Street, died at her home at 7:45 this morning.

While she had lived in Lawrence County practically her entire life, she was not a native of the county, being born in Portersville, Pa., the daughter of Alexander and Jane Aiken. As a small girl she moved to Mt. Jackson with her family and later came to New Castle.

Miss Aiken was widely known and respected. She was a woman of forceful character and intense loyalty to friends. With her, Christianity was a guide for her daily life.

She is survived by a brother, A. A. Aiken of Detroit, Mich., and two sisters, Miss Jane Aiken and Miss Anne C. Aiken, both of whom resided at 317 East street. Her brother, the late Attorney Robert K. Aiken preceded her in death ten years ago and a sister, Mary Aiken, about five years ago.

Miss Aiken was at one time affiliated with the New Castle Young Women's Christian Association as a staff member and is remembered for her work with that organization. She was a member of the Highland United Presbyterian church and of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Funeral services will be held Monday, May 8, at 2:30 p. m., from the home with Rev. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of the Highland United Presbyterian church officiating. Interment will be in Oak Park cemetery.

William Porter Lehman.

Funeral services are being conducted in the Maple Grove Mennonite church this afternoon for the late William Porter Lehman of Pulaski, who passed away at his home Wednesday evening following six months of illness.

Mr. Lehman was born in Mercer county in 1865, son of Porter and Mary Knightwine Lehman. He passed his life in the Pulaski-New Wilmington district, a well known farmer. He leaves his wife, two children, Norman of New Castle R. D. 5 and Mrs. Dave Redman of New Wilmington; an adopted daughter, Mrs. John Moore of New Wilmington; 15 grandchildren and the following brothers and sisters: L. L. of South Dakota, Bert of North Dakota, Patosi of California, Fred and Daisy of West Middlesex and Mrs. Mabell Pearis of Sharpsville. He had been married to Fannie Kaufman Lehman for 46 years.

Clyde E. McNickle.

Word has been received of the death Thursday of Clyde E. McNickle of Malden, Mass., formerly of this city.

Mr. McNickle was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. McNickle of East Brock. He is survived by his wife, Mary Varley McNickle, and daughter Catherine of Malden; one sister, Mrs. R. C. McKnight of East Palestine, O., and the following brothers: J. Walter of Grove City, Willias H. and Charles M. of New Castle.

Word of the time and place of burial was not given in the message.

James L. Moses.

The death of James L. Moses, aged 68 years, occurred suddenly at 3:20 p. m. Tiursday at his residence, 116 Richelieu avenue. Mr. Moses, a retired foreman of the P. & L. E. freight house at Ellwood City, had been in his usual health yesterday and was around his home and yard during the day. He had returned just two weeks ago after three months in Florida.

Born in Scott township on July 27, 1870, he was a native of Lawrence county and passed his entire life here. His parents were George H. and Catherine Stoner Moses. Forty-six years ago he married Jessie E. Mershimer, who survives. In addition to his wife he leaves one son, M. L. Moses of Bessemer; two grandchildren, Jimmie and Miriam Moses, and one brother, Howard Moses of Berkley, Cal. He was a member of the First Baptist church.

The body is at the Boyd funeral home where friends will be received tonight from 7 to 9 o'clock. Services will be conducted Saturday at 3 p. m. in the funeral home, with the First Baptist minister, Rev. Dr. Charles H. Heaton, in charge. Interment will be in Oak Park cemetery.

Guido Sista.

Guido Sista, of 820 Harrison St., died in the New Castle hospital on Thursday at midnight, of pneumonia following three weeks of sickness. He would have been 45 years old on May 24.

He was born in Italy, son of Vittorio and Rosa DiAngelis Sista. He came to this city 22 years ago, was a member of St. Vitus church and was employed at the National Radiator Works.

His father, wife, Julia Abate Sista, sons, Marcello and Vittorio, and six sisters are all in Italy. The sisters are Mrs. Palma Ardingo, Mrs. Assunta Girolamo, Mrs. Francesca Zille, Maria Sista, Mrs. Emilia Panzi, and Mrs. Sittimia Panzi.

High mass of requiem will be celebrated Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock in St. Vitus church. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Lydia Cleaver.

Mrs. Lydia Cleaver, aged 41, of 3 East Round street, passed way suddenly from a heart attack, Thursday evening at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Cleaver is the wife of Rev. W. C. Cleaver, former pastor of St. Luke's A. M. E. Zion church, of this city.

Body is at the Crunkleton funeral home, where it may be viewed by friends. Arrangements for the funeral will be announced later.

Barnicoat Funeral Time.

Funeral services for the late Richard Charles Barnicoat will be conducted at the home, 610 Raymond street, at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, with the Epworth Methodist Episcopal minister, Rev. Dr. H. A. McCurdy, officiating. Interment will be in Graceland cemetery.

Mr. Barnicoat was a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, and for many years was employed as a roller in the tin mill. He had an unusualy large circle of friends and news of his passing was received with much sorrow.

McGaffic Services.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Lenora McGaffic of Arlington avenue were conducted in the Arlington Avenue Free Methodist church on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with the pastor, Rev. P. C. Millard, in charge, assisted by Rev. C. T. R. Yeates, pastor of the Third United Presbyterian church.

The congregation sang two hymns, "Rock of Ages," and "There Is a Fountain Filled with Blood," as a part of the sad last rites for the deceased.

Pallbearers were family friends. Interment was in Graceland cemetery.

BECK PRESENTS REPLY OF POLAND TO NAZI DEMAND

latory solution, we have purposely endeavored to exert no influence as regards the national, ideological and cultural development of the German majority in the free city."

Answering Hitler's alleged refusal to negotiate the Danzig issue on the basis of a common guarantee, Beck said:

"It is freedom of the German population, which is not menaced, or it is a question of prestige?"

Ancient Polish Territory

The Polish corridor, Beck said, is ancient Polish territory containing only "an insignificent percentage of German colonists."

He outlined the facilities given to Germany within the corridor and again asked:

"What is the aim of it all? We have no reason to obstruct German citizens from their eastern province."

The future of Danzig and communications through the corridor, Beck said, are still being put forward "as one-sided concessions which the Reich seems to be demanding from us."

"A self-respecting nation," he said, "does not make one-sided concessions where reciprocity is possible. This reciprocity looks vague in the German proposals."

(Editor's note: In his speech to the Reichstag, Hitler said he had offered to guarantee Poland's borders for twenty-five years in exchange for Danzig and a rail and motor road across the corridor.)

Beck denounced as vague and transitory alleged German proposals concerning a "condominium" of nations regarding the frontiers of Slovakia.

State College Men Are Killed

(International News Service)

HUNTINGDON, Pa., May 5.—An investigation was launched today into a train-auto wreck at Warrior Ridge, near Petersburg, which cost the lives of three State College, Pa., men.

The dead were identified as C. W. Stover, 30; Simon Rudy, 45, and Harold Jackson, 24. Their car was struck by a special Pennsylvania railroad passenger engine on a four-track crossing.

The train was carrying a group of bankers to a San Francisco convention. Two of the bodies were hurled more than 100 feet through the air, and the demolished car was dragged 160 feet by the train.

How To Relieve Itching of Piles

If you are annoyed with the itching of piles or rectal irritation you will be well pleased with the quick and pleasing comfort the use of Ice Mint will give you. This cooling and soothing preparation quickly relieves the itching, eases pain and irritation and aids in healing the raw, sore spots. It seems the height of folly for anyone to suffer this itching annoyance when a simple remedy, so easy to use, may be had at such a small cost. Ice Mint is highly recommended and is clean and pleasant to use. Try it. Any drug store can supply you.

GRAND FOR CAKES AND PASTRY, TOO
CHICKEN AND RICE PLATTER
Browned to savory goodness the Spry way
¼ cup flour; ¾ teaspoon salt; ¼ teaspoon pepper; ½ teaspoon paprika; 3-pound frying chicken, cut in serving pieces; ⅓ cup Spry; 1 cup canned condensed mushroom soup; 1 cup milk; Boiled rice
Mix flour with salt, pepper and paprika. Roll chicken in seasoned flour. Fry chicken in hot Spry in skillet. (Spry makes the outside richly brown, keeps the inside moist and deliciously tasty.)
Brown well on both sides, drain off fat, and add mushroom soup and milk. Cover tightly and let simmer for 1 hour, or until tender. Arrange chicken on platter around mound of boiled rice. Serves 6.

CANADA AND U. S. CLOSER TOGETHER

TO paraphrase Master Shakespeare, some countries achieve amity with their neighbors, some are born friendly, and some have a peaceful relationship thrust upon them.

But in the relations between the United States and Canada, both are fortunate in being bound by all three conditions. We have achieved mutually cordial relations by 100 years of their conscious development, we are born naturally friendly and in key with one another, and our geographical and economic relationships thrust us one upon the other in so emphatic a way that any but the most friendly relations would be ridiculous.

Often we take this relationship for granted, so accustomed to it have we become. We strive to improve relations with Mexico, Central and South America, which is eminently proper. But we are apt to take Canada for granted, and she us.

We seldom think about the interweaving of destiny that is drawing irresistibly together the two great countries. When President Roosevelt gave renewed assurance that the United States stood ready to defend Canada against any foreign invasion, nobody was much surprised. He only said what everybody knew would be the case in practice anyway.

Obviously neither country could feel safe if a foreign force got a foothold in the other. What Pacific war could be imagined that would not concern Canada equally with the United States? International affairs, especially those of the last 20 years, have been putting the two countries even more emphatically than they have put all the American countries, into the same boat.

It would not be at all surprising to see Canada some day a participant in Pan-American conferences, from which her status as an empire dominion has hitherto barred her.

But we also sometimes forget that the trade between the United States and Canada is three per cent of all world trade, and greater than that between any other two countries. While U. S. exports to China in 1937 were under 50 millions, Canada was taking more than 500 millions in American goods. She was meanwhile sending back about 400 millions. And this apparently unfavorable balance was more than made up by U. S. tourist traffic going into Canada, estimated for 1938 at 150 millions.

One-third of all U. S. foreign long-term investments are in Canada, nearly four billions, but that is no one-way affair, for Canada has invested at least a billion in the United States.

So closely interwoven a relationship as this needs no political ties, and no formal alliances to emphasize that the two great countries are growing closer as each year passes, and that in respect to certain phases of foreign relations they are, and must be, one.

ALPHABETIC CONFUSION

Governmental reorganization in the interest of economy and efficiency is a fine thing. But recent Washington developments suggest more alphabetic confusion.

For example, there is to be the FSA (Federal Security Agency) which will include the CCC, the NYA and similar units; the FWA (Federal Works Agency) which will coordinate the USHA, the PWA, the WPA, and a new outfit, the PBBPDTD (the Public Buildings Branch, Procurement Division, Treasury Department), and the FLA (Federal Loan Agency) under which will be grouped the FHA, the HOLC and the RFC.

What the AC (average citizen) would like to know is how far the FA (Federal authorities) are going to carry a process that already has become too baffling for the OM (ordinary mind).

KEEP CONGRESS IN SESSION?

Public opinion endorses the demand by Senators Johnson, of California, and Connelly, of Texas, that Congress remain in session during the Summer to prevent the Nation's being "eased" into war.

Only the presence of Congress—which is overwhelmingly opposed to American entanglement in the European mess—in Washington can reassure peace-loving American citizens, many of whom fear that President Roosevelt's course is heading this Nation straight for war.

This, then, is a time for Congressmen who represent the American people to remain at their posts to steer the American course away from the European brink, away from the dictatorship, censorship, suppression and complete totalitarianization of the United States which would be the inevitable fruit of war.

Franklin D. Roosevelt has less than two years to go in the White House. It is Congress' duty to remain in session every minute of that time, if necessary, to prevent the disaster which war would bring to this nation.

WHY A TOKEN PAYMENT NOW?

And now a leading Britisher—the Marquess of Lothian—suggests that England make a "token payment" of $10,000,000 a year on the war debt "as evidence that we (the British) admit the debt and mean to settle it."

If and when these tactics are resumed, we believe Uncle Sam should accept the money but refrain from falling for the obvious intention—that of paving the way for other huge war loans in the event of a European conflagration.

It has become perfectly plain during the past two decades that nations which borrow cash for the purpose of fighting do not make good debtors.

Great Britain had virtually repudiated her debt to the United States prior to the present disturbed world conditions. A "token payment" made at this late date would be nothing but a palpable attempt to humor America into willingness again to be played for a naive international sucker.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

"ADORING AUNT" SUCCESSFUL

Inasmuch as I must read so many letters that describe failures or alleged failures, it is most refreshing to receive one like the following, signed Dorothy K. B.

"I am not a parent but an adoring aunt. For this reason I read your column daily and derive a great deal of pleasure and knowledge from it."

Then she tells how she helped her sister's child of three overcome bedwetting. "First I got a calendar, the kind marked into large squares, and hung it above Judy's bed; then a box of beautiful red stars with gummed backs. The idea was that each morning that Judy awoke with a dry bed she herself was to paste her star into the square containing that date. . . .

Plan Succeeded

"At 11 p. m. and 4 a. m. we took Judy from bed to the bathroom. The plan succeeded very slowly. Sometimes only two days a week saw red stars on the calendar. At last, great day, one whole week of them. Judy was allowed to bring in all her playmates to see the calendar. Of course, lunch was served for them and I bought Judy a new picture book.

"So it went, sometimes badly, sometimes well, but we persisted and finally conquered. We never, never mentioned failures but praised her successes extravagantly. Mother and Daddy, on coming home, always had an extra kiss and word of praise for the little girl with a fresh red star on her calendar. In only four months, Dr. Myers, Judy outgrew the calendar and her good habits are now taken absolutely for granted. . . ."

Another Plan

Then this aunt tells of how she quieted Judy late in the afternoon when tired and excitable. "An hour before supper all the little friends were sent home and not allowed to come back. Then Judy and I sat quietly and played the 'newspaper game'. I would point to a big black letter in a headline and say, 'That's an A'. She pointed and said, 'That's an A'. In an unbelievably short time Judy knew by sound and sight all the letters. Then, as I prepared the supper, Judy brought her little rocker into a corner of the kitchen and we sang and chanted poetry and little songs. . . .

"One of the most valuable things I am learning is to say 'Yes' whenever possible when a child asks permission to do something, but, if it is necessary, to say 'NO' and stick to it like glue. . . . I am 23 now and some day I hope I shall have a big family and have a big yard where my sun-browned offsprings can play and hammer, and plant seeds and raise pets. . . . I'll love them and they'll love me and we'll have such glorious times together."

Bless her soul, what a lovely young woman she must be!

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

TOO MUCH FOR WAR.

Hitler's vast armament program has deprived German plumbers of the use of metals, such as iron, steel, copper and lead, and forced them to resort to substitutes.

The use of the various heavy metals traditionally associated with the plumbing industry has been prohibited for domestic purposes in Germany.

Water, waste and gas pipe in Germany is now being made from various synthetic materials, most of which have a wood base.

Plumbing trade papers published in England and France express grave doubt that the synthetic piping decree by Hitler will stand up. An undermining of health as a result of water pollution and dampness caused by leakage is predicted.

It is pointed out that Germany, in returning to the use of wood for water piping, has taken a step backward. Wood was used for water piping in England, as well as the United States a century ago. Wooden water mains were used in Chicago until the fire in 1871.

In contrast to the trend in Germany, American manufacturers of plumbing fixtures, pipe, valves and fittings have found no need for commercial advantage in experimenting with synthetic substitutes for materials which have stood the test of time.

In the case of bathtubs, for instance, it has been found that the fixtures made of porcelain enamel fused on rigid cast iron is unsurpassed for rigidity, lustre and durability. Until the advent of trade barriers, American-made plumbing fixtures enjoy a ready market abroad because of their superior beauty of color and design and their strength and permanence.

Bible Thought For Today

When thou passeth through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee.—Isaiah 43:2.

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By Francine Markel

No matter how faithful he or she may remain, physically, I doubt if the most conscientious and saintly husband or wife can remain emotionally loving or loyal to a spouse who has become a scold or a nagger. Our ancestors in Europe and America had a form of corporal punishment publicly inflicted on such culprits during four centuries, beginning with the fifteenth. It was the "ducking stool" on which they were tied and plunged into the water while the public laughed and cheered.

Today we all meet chronic naggers who would have been publicly ducked had they lived in those times. Today their punishment is a general boycott by relatives and friends. The earliest stages manifest themselves in the child who cannot "get along" with his schoolmates and playmates. Then is the time to eradicate the germ before it can reach the chronic stage.

Reader's Question Answered

Dear Miss Markel—I am going to be married in church but will wear traveling clothes, hence will have only one attendant. How should we walk up the aisle? Should I carry an arm bouquet or wear a corsage?
MARIE.

Answer—You may have your father give you away, walking up the aisle on his right; or you may walk up with the groom or alone, because of the informality of your wedding. Wear a corsage.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

Wendell L. Wilkie, holding company executive, speaking of the New Deal, said: "It means well, but some of the methods it employes for leading it on to recovery are so wasteful, and bungling I'm reminded of the wheel barrow story.

"An old gardener was sent by his boss to buy a wheelbarrow and when he came back he was pushing one wheelbarrow and had the other in it.

"Why did you buy two wheelbarrows?" asked his boss. "I told you to buy only one."

"And do you suppose?" said the old fellow, "I was going to carry the darned thing?"

"Mr. B——, a well known metropolitan printer, told us on one occasion that an old woman from the country came into a printing office with an old Bible in her hand. 'I want,' she said, 'you to print it over again. It's getting a little blurred, sort of, and my eyes isn't what they were. How much do you ax?' Fifty cents was the answer. 'Can you have it done in half an hour?—I wish you would—want to be getting home—live a good ways out in the country.' When she went out the printer sent around to the American Bible society and got a new copy for 50 cents. 'Lor' sakes a massy!' exclaimed the old lady when she saw it, 'how good you have fixed it! It's e'en a most as good as new. I never seed nothing so curious as wot printin' is!'"

Uncle Dan'l Be Hit With Canadians As New U. S. Representative

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 5.—When Daniel C. Roper resigned recently as secretary of commerce, to be succeeded by Harry Hopkins, everyone in Washington accepted, with a barrel of salt, Uncle Dan'l's explanation that he was quitting because personal affairs required his exclusive attention. It was well understood that the retiring cabinet member is quite well enough fixed economically to let his financial interests take care of themselves indefinitely—and on down through a few generations, unless his progeny are mighty poor business folk. He's an old man, too, with no profession that he seemed likely to be desirous to devote himself to. He could write a big book concerning his political experiences, and it would be both intensely interesting and historically valuable. But he isn't literary.

He designed because the administration desired that job to promote Harry Hopkins and to get the latter out of the WPA, where he had become a liability to the White House.

And Uncle Dan'l had no objection, provided he got something else that he thought he'd like equally well or a little better.

So He Got It

So he gets the post of United States diplomatic representative in Canada.

This suits him down to the ground. It's a society position and he loves society. It gives him a chance to mingle with visiting royalty, and that's directly down his alley.

Moreover, he's equipped for it. He knows the palaver. He knows how to wear the correct raiment. He'll be a success in Canada.

If he'd been wished into some foreign capital where he'd have had ultimatums to deliver to local authority he wouldn't have been at all well adapted to conditions. Europe, these times, would be out of his line altogether. The Orient also. Dodging bombs, as in China, is none of his specialty. Even Latin America would be too strenuous for him.

In Canada, though, they'll take to him immediately.

It generally is agreed that he's a most likable old fellow. And there never will be anything but the pleasant relations between the United States and Canada. Well, he can maintain pleasant relations, and then some.

* * *

Speaking of diplomatic relationships:

The state department is more or less upset by the establishment of a supposedly totalitarian government in Bolivia.

Bolivia is exactly in the heart of Latin America.

If Nazi-ism is entrenching itself there the outlook is pretty bilious.

Furthermore the Bolivian dictator's name is German Busch. It surely sounds Hitleristic.

Of German Origin

Dictator Busch, as a matter of fact, is of German origin. But a lot of those South American names are. Argentina's chief military hero was Gen. O'Higgins. Doc O'Farrel introduced medicine into the River Plate republics. Buenos Aires' chief secret service man (comparable to J. Edgar Hoover) was Juan Fallon—known to the local Irish as Johnnie Fallon.

Pronounced like this in Spanish: "Fah-jhoan!" With the accent on the last syllable. Yet I could talk with that bird in Irish perfectly. He was as much an Irishman as any cop in New York.

So I suspect that this new Bolivian dictator is just a plain Latin American dictator, such as we've had many times before—uncomplicated with Fascism or Nazi-ism.

A Latin American dictatorship is bad, but it's about as variable as elections are here.

The method's different; that's all.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY—Alfred M. Landon supports President Roosevelt's moves for peace:

"It is always a dangerous thing for a political leader to cross party lines. Nevertheless, to support my president, I do so. Whether he deserves it or not, is not the question. The republic deserves it and that is all that should count with every citizen."

WASHINGTON — Eugene P. Thomas, president of natural foreign trade council, sees a possibility the dictatorships eventually may "crack up":

"Feverish rearmament concurrently with aggressive pressure for export markets, curtailment of imports by the use of synthetic substitutes and rationing of luxuries and necessities impose a strain too onerous to bear indefinitely."

NEW YORK — Col. Theodore Roosevelt stresses the danger of growing "isms."

"A danger for democracy is the blind panic which is making one or another of the 'isms' stronger in this country."

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Cordell Hull pleads for a lowering of restrictions on commerce between the states:

"The ability of goods to move freely from one state to another, whatever their origin, has been one of the most important factors in the development of our country and the high standard of efficiency which we have achieved in many branches of industry and agriculture."

The Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

Trouble In The S.E.C.

WASHINGTON, May 5.

IT seems that the slick Mr. Thomas Corcoran, who so cunningly disseminates his particular brands of propaganda, has bungled the job of picking the new chairman of the Securities Exchange Commission. As a consequence the New Deal strategists are in a much-flustered state and from various quarters there is comment upon the new-found independence of the SEC.

THE theory, of course, is that the SEC selects its own chairman, but that isn't the fact. The selection is being made for it by young Mr. Corcoran, acting for the President, who is absorbed at the moment by the foreign situation. Ordinarily Mr. Corcoran should have had no trouble. Having almost single-handedly elevated to the Supreme Court, the former chairman, Mr. Douglas, whose "poor boy" ballyhoo was part of the Corcoran game, it seems that, speaking for the President, all he had to do was indicate to the members whom he wanted. But for a number of reasons it has not worked out that way.

MR. Corcoran's first choice was that exceedingly garrulous and very pink economist, Mr. Leon Henderson. Quite fully he sold Mr. Henderson to the President and the inspirational journalist, gushing over Mr. Henderson's toughness and he-mannishness in much the same way they went bleary over the pathos of Mr. Douglas' early hardships, practically proclaimed his selection. However, there developed such strong opposition to Mr. Henderson that the idea of making him head of the commission had to be dropped temporarily.

THERE were two reasons for this. One was the reluctance to put into such a post an intimate of Rexford G. Tugwell, whose personal economic views, to put it mildly, are unorthodox. The other was because the selection of Henderson meant the shoving aside of Mr. Jerome Frank, already a member of the commission, a far abler, sounder man and certainly entitled to the job if he wanted it. It was made very clear that he did want it. Passed over for a Federal judgeship, because it appeared unwise to name him so soon after the Frankfurter appointment, to shove him aside again seemed well calculated to make trouble.

THE net result of all this was that Mr. Corcoran had to drop Mr. Henderson and swing over to Mr. Frank. The former was named a member of the commission but the latter as the White House support for chairman. Following this a division in the commission developed which now makes it seem that, unless Mr. Corcoran succeeds in coercing or cajoling one or two of the recalcitrant members, the only way Mr. Frank can be elected is with Mr. Henderson's and his own vote, which is naturally distasteful to him. With Commissioner Matthews nothing can be done. Mr. Healey and the other commissioner, it is said, may agree not to vote at all, which would give Mr. Frank a voting majority. Probably that's what will happen.

THE opposition to Mr. Frank is due first, to resentment by members of the commission over not being let alone; second, to the fear that Mr. Frank, if elected, will serve for a few months and then retire to the private practice of law, which would open the door again for Mr. Henderson. This fear may not be well founded but the fact remains that

BABY'S FIRST VISIT

The baby came to visit us!
They brought him in the car
(His first adventure glorious!)
To where his grandfolks are.
His grandma met him at the door
With eyes and cheeks aflame,
A joy that she's been waiting for
Since first to earth he came.

The baby came to pay a call!
From rooms above, below,
Ran relatives and friends and all
The crowd he'll some day know.
The rascal was as good as gold,
His smile was sunshine-like,
And everybody begged to hold
The blue-eyed little tyke.

His Granma took him on her knee
And gave his cheek a pat,
"Be patient every one," said she,
"Till I get off his hat."
It made me sore to see the way
The women flocked about,
I tried to reach the child, but they
Stuck close and shut me out.

I got to hold the boy at last,
I think he knew me, too,
He held my thumb and finger fast,
As babies seldom do.
And I—well, I forgot my cares
And my neuritis pain,
I raced him up and down the stairs
And played at choo-choo train.

Bird Houses And Carvings Shown At Highland Program

Thursday afternoon an interesting program was given in the auditorium of the Highland school by the pupils of grade 5A, under the direction of Miss Pearl Hutchinson, nature study and auditorium, and Mrs. Clara Lightner, art work, teachers. Quite a number of mothers, accompanied by some smaller children, attended and demonstrated their appreciation of the splendid efforts of the pupils.

Croy Pitzer, a pupil, was the announcer.

On the stage stood three good sized "trees" with paper leaves, with the nest of a wren, robin and oriole therein.

First on the program was a group of boys, each holding the bird house he had made, making a speech about same and the bird it was intended to house. They were David Hamilton, George Morrow, Joseph Cumo, Wilfred Stall, Louis Cakitto and Augustine Fialla.

Second. A group of girls who had carved various birds out of a cake of soap, and varnished them in colors. They described the birds they had individually made and were Shirley Carnes, Jacqueline Kradel, Margaret Moore, Lois Ann Voorhees, Valentene Kolunie, Ada Mason and Lucille Clarke.

Third. Another group of boys showed their bird houses and made speeches about them. They were Burr Rogers, Llewellyn Wallace, John Furrillo and Russell Cunningham.

Fourth. An original play, by the girls, "The Return of the Birds", done in costume. Girls were Jacqueline Kradel, Lois Ann Voorhees, Dorothy Maul, Rose Samiac, Winifred Kisthart, Valentine Kolunie, Margaret Moore, Lucille Clark and Katybelle Sherman.

Fifth. The last group of boys anxious to demonstrate their bird house handiwork were Billy Hamill, Sherman Rosen, Charles Fisher, Donald Pitzer, Croy Pitzer and Homer Winter.

Sixth. The following group of girls displayed and spoke of the birds they had carved: Katybelle Sherman, Dorothy Maul, Winifred Kisthart, Donnie Mae Rosey, Natalie Rowland, Emily McIlvenny and Rose Samiac.

Seventh. Two girls, Jacqueline Kradel and Natalie Rowland, read poems or rhymes that they had written.

Eighth. A dance by Gary Brehm and Joseph Cumo, in costume, representing two penguins, which was well done.

Mrs. Lightner had charge of the building of bird houses and bird carving and Miss Hutchinson of the program.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Man is most fond, but extremely careless, of life.

He takes for granted that he is physically fit.

If he is not actually sick—he believes he is well.

A recent survey of a large group gave astonishing results.

One-third were overweight, 40 per cent underweight.

Also 84 per cent had no regular rest periods.

Nearly half had little exercise or outdoor sunlight.

The same number retired at irregular hours.

Half of them were referred to their doctor for correction.

One-third were referred to their dentist.

Later results showed half of faulty health habits corrected.

You may not be sick—but are you well?

Former Canadian Prime Minister To Be Pitt Speaker

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 5—The Right Honorable Arthur Meighen, former prime minister of Canada and at present a member of the Canadian Senate, will deliver the commencement address at the University of Pittsburgh, on Wednesday morning, June 14, in the Stadium. Senator Meighen will speak on "The Greatest Englishman of History."

Words Of Wisdom

The jealous man poisons his own banquet and then eats it.—Rochefoucauld.

Industrialists of Belgium are demanding that the government provide measures to reduce their operating costs.

The Great Game Of Politics

the White House radicals had their hearts set on putting Loquacious Leon in this important post, and have by no means abandoned the idea. Far better than Mr. Frank he would fit in with their campaign "to carry New Deal ideals forward."

THIS is not because Mr. Frank is not a New Dealer, because he is. It is rather because Mr. Henderson's feeling about business generally is less friendly and more pessimistic. The people who have been pushing Mr. Henderson for this place are not those who believe in "business appeasement." Rather they believe it a mistake for Mr. Roosevelt to modify his attitude toward business and have done what they could to frustrate the efforts for taxation revision of the Messrs. Morgenthau and Hanes, to say nothing of the great business encouragement campaign of the heroic Mr. Hopkins.

IT is they who, with the always potent appeal not to "let the people down," time and again have turned the President left when he seemed to be going right. And it is they who once more are putting out through selected channels the doctrine that "he must run again." The run-again idea, of course, is without any basis whatever, but it serves the purposes of the bright boys of the inner circle to promote it. For these purposes, too, "once of our own" at the head of the SEC seems essential. It, therefore, appears sure that Mr. Corcoran and his friends will not relax their efforts, now that Mr. Henderson's confirmation is assured, to land him as its head, if and when Mr. Frank retires. The fact that they have bungled the first attempt does not mean its abandonment. One means of achieving their end is to drive Mr. Matthews, whose independence has been the real obstacle, off the commission. That is what their usually accurate reflectors forecast, anyhow.

Small Industry Is Hard Hit By Strike Of Miners

Many Of "Little Fellows" Are Nearly Out Of Coal In Pittsburgh Area

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 5.—Small, independent manufacturers were hit hard today in this heavy industrial district as western mines joined the nationwide shutdown in response to orders from John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

Major railroads and the steel industry, it was reported, still had sufficient coal to operate for about a month, but most of the "little fellows" either were completely out of coal, or close to it.

Many local industries have turned to coke as a substitute, but these stocks are dwindling rapidly, it was understood. Some of the major railroads had been freighting coal in from the western fields for local consumption but with this source now closed off, the situation is slowly becoming acute.

Western Pennsylvania's 125,000 miners have been out on "holiday" since the first of April when their contract with the operators expired.

In Wheeling, W. Va., 50 men were laid off by the United States Smelting company and Harry Lohman, president, said 300 more would be furloughed next week.

Rev. Lloyd's Sister Dies In Middle West

Rev. Paul Bowman of Mercer will preach in the Leesburg Presbyterian church Sunday morning, May 7, at 11 o'clock, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. William A. Lloyd, who left Thursday for Columbus Junction, Iowa, to attend the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Whitfield Davis, who died Tuesday morning in Phoenix, Ariz. A heart ailment was the cause of her death. Mrs. Davis leaves her husband and two sons.

There will be no service in the Leesburg church Sunday evening because of the Sunday school convention of District 14, which will be held during the afternoon and evening in the White Chapel M. E. church.

Reynolds Senior Class President

Merritt Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Reynolds, of Lathrop street is the senior class president and not Everett Hoffman, as stated in these columns yesterday.

Hoffman, who will have an important role in the class play tonight, is twice a student president of Hi-Y and of the French club, but he is not class president. After tonight young Reynolds as leader of the unusually large graduating class will be the man of the hour in the big school on Lincoln avenue, for the rest of the school year.

Red Cross Board To Meet Tuesday

Open House Of Chapter Will Be Planned At Monthly Meeting Of Committee

Members of the executive committee of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, will meet Tuesday evening, May 9, at 7 p. m., for the monthly meeting.

Plans for the Open House of the Chapter, when the public will be given an opportunity to inspect the new chapter house, and other activities will be discussed.

Reports will also be given on the National convention by the board members and executive secretary, Miss Margaret F. Bodenstein, who were in attendance.

Are You Ruptured? Have You A Hernia?

See your doctor concerning an operation—that is the best procedure. Should you not desire an operation at this time speak to us about a truss. Let our graduate truss fitter examine you and suggest the best means of properly retaining your hernia. Let him show you that a properly fitted truss does not irditate or chafe the skin.

THANK-OFFERING SERVICE

On Tuesday evening 30 missionary members, Standard Bearer girls and other women of the community attended the thank-offering service held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Weinschenk.

The service was under the auspices of the Women's Foreign Missionary society. The chief and most interesting part of the program was a talk on "The Life and Customs of the People of India" by Mrs. Taylor of Energy. Dr. and Mrs. Taylor spent several years in India as medical missionaries and have many exciting and strange stories to tell concerning life in India.

At the close of the evening's program the hostess served a dainty lunch.

District officers present were Rev. Luther Macdonald, Mrs. H. F. Barber, Mrs. W. B. Mitchelltree, Fay Wilcox, Lucille Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Chapin and Joan, Lois B. Kerr, Mrs. Mary Barrett, Reed V. Miller, George Bayles, and H. F. Barber.

The chief matters under consideration were the annual convention of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, which is to be held at the New Wilmington United Presbyterian church Thursday, June 15th, and the annual convention of Pulaski District that is to be held at the Pulaski Presbyterian church the latter part of this month —date to be announced later.

It was stated that the Leadership Training School for the county would be held the latter part of next September as it was thought best to postpone it until after the vacation season. Plans are in progress for a Conference picnic for the young People of Lawrence County to be held early in July.

Miss A. Pearl Hockenberry, the children's division superintendent of the County Association gave a talk on how children's work could be promoted in the district, and H. L. Marvin, president of New Castle district, gave a talk on the benefits received from the recent "Four Star" increase campaign.

After the business session a social period was enjoyed.

REV. HERBERT DYKE AT PEOPLES MISSION

There will be a special service at the Peoples Mission Sunday evening. The mission has been very fortunate in securing Rev. Herbert Dyke, formerly of this city, now of California, as the speaker. Rev. Dyke is an outstanding Bible teacher and preacher in the Christian and Missionary Alliance. The special music for this service will be furnished by the Welker sisters trio.

During the Festival of Sports in Berlin a policeman on a speeding motorcycle shot toy balloons floating in the air.

HARLANSBURG

MISSIONARY MEETING

The Missionary society of the Unity Baptist church met for an all-day meeting last Friday at the home of Mrs. Sarah Harlan and Miss Mary Harlan. The making of quilt patches was the work for the day. Dinner was served at noon to about twenty-five by Ethel Flack, Margaret Harlan and Mamie Eakin.

The day was also the birthday anniversary of Miss Mary Harlan. In honor of the day, Miss Harlan was presented with a beautiful candlelighted birthday cake by Mrs. Mamie Eakin; also a handkerchief shower by the ladies.

HISTORICAL TALKS HEARD LAST NIGHT

Erie Man, Attorney George Muse Address County Historical Group

Donald H. Kent, of Erie, eminent authority on Pennsylvania history, and Attorney George W. Muse spoke last night at Senior High school under the auspices of the Lawrence County Historical society.

The affair marked one of the series of public programs the society is sponsoring. The audience filled Study Hall 1 at the school.

Attorney Charles H. Young, president of the group, presided over the the short business session and, in the absence of Program Chairman Louis B. Round, conducted the program too.

Mr. Kent discussed the history of Northwestern Pennsylvania and provided enlightening slides to illustrate the talk. Mr. Muse devoted his remarks to the early history of Lawrence County.

A group of new society members were announced.

HILLSVILLE

W. H. M. S. MEETS

The members of the Women's Home Missionary Society gathered at the home of Mrs. Anna List on Thursday for their regular monthly meeting. The ladies spent the morning sewing and at noon a sumptous dinner was served by Mrs. List assisted by Mrs. Jane Heasley and Mrs. Jennie Hilliah, and Mrs. Lydia Stacy. The afternoon was devoted to their regular monthly meeting and business of the society.

CLASS MEETS

The members of the Berean Bible class held a very enjoyable meeting at the home of Mrs. Rachael Cracraft on Friday evening. The business meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. Myrtle Garber. Following the business meeting the remainder of the evening was spent in a very pleasant social way. At the conclusion Mrs. Cracraft assisted by Mrs. Alice Cunningham served a delicious lunch.

CLASS MEETS

The members of the Keystone class of the M. E. church met Wednesday evening at the home of Harold Welker with Carl Book as associate hostess. After the business meeting several games and music furnished the diversions of the evening. At the conclusion of which delicious refreshments were served by the hosts.

HILLSVILLE NOTES

Ben Latshaw is on the sick list.

Mrs. Ben Bulyan of Carbon was a recent New Castle visitor.

Miss Dorothea Houlette, of Cleveland, O., spent the week end at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kleim of New Castle were recent visitors with relatives here.

Lawrence Reynolds of Pittsburgh, spent Saturday visiting with relatives at Carbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tropea have changed their residence from Edenburg to Hillsville.

Miss Carolyn Bencinic of New Castle spent the week end visiting with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Grist spent Tuesday evening visiting with friends in Bessemer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Thompson spent the week end visiting with relatives in Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis McBride of Buffalo Creek were recent visitors with the former's parents here.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter McCurdy and family of Youngstown, O., spent Sunday visiting with the former's mother here.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Heasley of Hillsville accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Martin of Mt. Jackson have returned from a motor trip to Canada.

LEGION OF HONOR PLANS ACTIVITIES

Members of the Legion of Honor made plans for coming activities at their meeting in the Cathedral last evening.

Arrangements to take an active part in the coming Spring Reunion in June were detailed.

In Swedish Lapland the hospital at Boden maintains an airplane ambulance service which flies upon calls, land on skis on frozen areas, and takes sick Laplanders to the hospital.

Memorial Day Group To Meet

Representatives of the various Veterans and patriotic groups of the city will meet in the Legion home this evening at 7:30 o'clock to further arrangements for the annual Memorial Day celebration which will take place here.

Chairman C. Ed. Brown stated today that plans for the annual observance are well in hand, and that committee reports this evening are expected to show most of the arrangements for the day completed.

Complete Work On New Hangar

Erection of the new airplane hangar at the New Castle Airport was completed Thursday afternoon. The building, property of William H. Ice, is somewhat larger than the hangar that was torn down at the airport several years ago.

Summer activities at the port will center about the hangar, as it will be the place where the ships belonging to local pilots will be stored

The hangar siding is constructed of galvanized siding and the roof is made of the same material. Construction of an archery range, by Tim Kurk former parachute jumper, has been started at the airport.

THE NEWS, BY MAIL, 1 YEAR, $5.

GNCA BOARD, COUNCIL WILL MEET ON MAY 12

The Greater New Castle Association's board of directors and advisory council will convene jointly in The Castleton Friday, May 12, at 7:30 p. m. Norman E. Clark, president, and Louis B. Round, advisory council chairman, called it.

"The ladies" like their men to dress colorfully, according to a recent poll.

Aged Ellwood City Man Recovers Sight

Operation Performed In Jameson Memorial Hospital Restores Sight To Octogenarian

As the result of a miraculous operation performed in the Jameson Memorial hospital recently, 91-year-old Samuel Sims, of Ellwood City, is again able to see after 20 years of blindness.

Mr. Sims sight failed him as a result of cataracts, twenty years ago, and despite the fact that specialists in Pittsburgh and New York advised against the operation because of his age, Mr. Sims never gave up hope of seeing again, and finally prevailed upon a local doctor to performe the operation, which proved successful.

USED MUD 'OVERCOATS'
(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—Examples of how early California Indians casually adopted the best methods at hand to ward off nippy weather have been discovered by historical researchists.

It was found that the redskins wore little or no clothing during sunny weather. In inclement periods, they smeared themselves with thick coats of mud in lieu of overcoats

Rev. Neighbour Will Be Plaingrove Guest

Evangelist-Violinist Will Also Be Heard In Service At Moore's Corners

On Saturday at 8 p. m. and Sunday at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. in the Plaingrove U. P. church, and on Sunday at 11:15 in the U. P. church at Moore's Corners, the people of those communities will be privileged to hear the Rev. Robert E. Neighbour, Jr., one of America's leading evangelistic violinists.

Rev. Neighbour studied under the renowned instructor, Leopold Auer, and received the second highest award at the time of his graduation. He also plays the very rare instrument known as the rainbow glass harp. He is a world traveler, having visited every city in the United States of 150,000 and over, and every continent in the world. He has been received by a rajah, and presidents and other government officials. He has visited most of the mission fields of the world. Rev. Neighbour is a gifted speaker and will be able to give his audience a vivid description of what he has been privileged to see.

ATTEND LUNCHEON

Mrs. Paul Kenny, Four County Council president, accompanied by the local auxiliary president, Mrs. Edwin Ball, Mrs. George Benson, Mrs. S. D. Gibson and Mrs. Joseph Wainer, motored to Pittsburgh on Monday, where they represented the Earl J. Watt unit No. 638 at a luncheon and reception in the Schenley hotel.

JUNIOR AUXILIARY

The Junior Auxiliary held their meeting on Friday evening, April 28, in the Legion Home. In the absence of the president, Rhea Bell Carr, Helen Gwin conducted the meeting. Plans were made for observance of Mothers' Day and for studying flag codes. Arrangements were also made for various members to sell poppies on Friday, June 2.

MOTHERS' DAY DINNER

Plans are being completed by the local auxiliary for the annual Mothers' Day dinner which will be held Tuesday evening, May 16, at 6 o'clock. The mothers of the Earl J. Watt post members will be the honored guests of the evening. The committee in charge of the dinner are as follows:

Decorations—Anna Ball, Laura Seltzer and Sarah Belle Gibson.

Dining room—Ethel Benson, Nettie Weitz, Ruth Bradley, Ida Anderson and Blanche Pitts.

Reception—Helen Kenny and Elsie Davis.

Coffee—Maude Carr and Hazel Mack.

Following the dinner a program will be presented by members of the Junior Auxiliary, and there will be an address by a guest speaker.

AUXILIARY TO MEET

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Earl J. Watt post, American Legion unit No. 638, will meet on Monday evening, May 8, in the Legion Home, at which time plans will be discussed in regards to honoring Battery B on Tuesday, May 30. The lunch committee for the evening consists of Wilda Heard, Mary Leskovitz and Ruth Kildoo. Later, the group will play bingo.

SHE'S NOT COMING BACK
(International News Service)

SPOKANE, Wash., May 5.—After 42 years, Charles P. Gallion, Spokane county farmer, decided his wife wasn't coming back. Gallion's wife left him in 1897. Recently he wanted to clear title to a farm, but there was the question of his wife's interest in it. Gallion filed suit for divorce, charging desertion.

HERE is a new soap creation, developed to bring you an utterly new conception of easier washdays—of brighter, more sparkling clothes!

For New High-Test OXYDOL is a new type "no-scrub" soap—fortified by a new, SAFE ingredient.

As a result, New High-Test Oxydol washes white clothes up to 25% whiter, as shown by independent laboratory tests. Not merely whiter than "old-fashioned" soaps. But up to 25% whiter than even well-known soaps that lack its amazing new ingredient.

In addition, it gives up to TWICE THE SUDS. Rich, active suds that stand up 2 to 3 times longer.

In tub washing—High-Test Oxydol soaks dirt loose in 10 minutes—without scrubbing or boiling. Even tough spots come clean with a few quick rubs. Yet SAFE for overnight soaking—SAFE for washable colors and hands.

So try New High-Test OXYDOL today. You'll be amazed how white clothes come! Procter & Gamble.

Naval Supply Bill Reported

Calls For Laying Down 23 New Warships Including Two 45,000-Ton Ships

HUGE EXPANSION OF NAVY PLANNED

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The national rearmament drive swept onward today.

The house appropriations committee on Thursday reported the annual naval supply bill, totalling $770,473,241 and calling for laying down of 23 new warships, including two mighty 45,000-ton battleships.

The measure laid before the house represents an increase of $146,897,047 over last year's appropriations but a reduction of $19,956,212 from budget recommendations.

Biggest Peace Time Bill

The committee reported the bill—biggest peace-time navy bill in history—after being warned by Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, that the navy must be expanded.

"In view of the rapidly changing alinement of European understandings and alliances, and the agreements as to community of interest between nations of Europe and Asia, it is essential that America should take steps toward an assurance of security even against possible alliances, and without depending upon assistance from any foreign source," Leahy said.

Huge Battleships

The two 45,000-ton battleships, estimated to cost $93,000,000 each, will be the mightiest actually known to the navy. Navy officers cited reports that Japan is building three 46,000-ton ships, and Great Britain has decided to build warships of 42,000 tons. Largest American ships now are 35,000 tons.

The measure, which calls for expansion of navy aviation as well as warships, carries $254,204,712 for work on construction of a total of 121 ships.

Outstanding Provisions

Outstanding provisions of the measure include:

Provides for laying down two new battleships, two cruisers, eight destroyers, eight submarines, two seaplane tenders and one repair ship.

Provides $83,298,000 for naval aviation, including funds to buy 500 new fighting planes.

Carries $500,000 toward construction of new dirigible, which the committee urged to be a 3,000,000 cubic-foot type.

Provides for increase of 5,500 in enlisted personnel and of 683 officers.

Increases naval reserve officers training corps from 1,200 to 2,400.

Increases naval reserve fund $1,150,000, chiefly to pay aviation cadets.

Postpones grant of funds for expansion of bases in far Pacific islands.

Increases Marine Corps appropriation $2,147,745.

Granting of funds for launching the two 45,000-ton battleships will mark a new era in America's warship construction. The two ships will be built in the New York and Philadelphia navy yards.

Naval officials said it will require four years to build the super-dreadnaughts and another six months or a year to put them in the battle line. Cost compares with $70,000,000 for 35,000-ton battleships and $27,000,000 for the battleship West Virginia, built 20 years ago.

Wife Of Silent Husband Divorced

Man And Wife Lived Last Ten Years Together, Hubby Never Spoke To Her

(International News Service)

DETROIT, May 5.—"Silent house" was divided Thursday.

Mrs. Isabelle Booth won a divorce in circuit court after she testified her husband, Thomas, had not talked to her in ten years. Said Mrs. Booth:

"We were married in 1908 and Thomas hasn't talked to me in ten years, although he lived in the same house. He did leave the money to pay bills and I would prepare his meals and then retire to the kitchen while he ate. I used to ask him why he never spoke to me, but he would never answer."

LOSE UGLY FAT This Easy, Safe Way

In 3 weeks weigh yourself again. Thousands of satisfied users call it the Kruschen Way. A jar costs but a trifle and lasts 4 weeks. New Castle Drug Co. and Eckerd's.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

Copyright 1938, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Untreated Anemia Subtracts from Child's Recuperative Powers

When you begin giving your child an iron-containing cereal, to supply that mineral to his system, you should feed it to him before the milk feeding, whether he is on the bottle or the breast. If you don't follow this order, you will find that he will turn his nose up at the cereal.

You should ask the advice of your doctor on the best age to begin feeding your child cereal—usually from three to five months. The mother should remember when she begins these feedings, that if the child rejects the new addition to his diet it doesn't mean that he doesn't like the taste of it. Actually he can't taste it; babies don't acquire a sense of taste until they are six months old. He spits it out just because it it different from his milk; he isn't used to it and so he doesn't swallow it right away.

The great majority of children will take to cereals quite readily. When you get your child thus trained, you have solved the problem of how to give the baby his irons. There are especially prepared cereals which contain more iron than others, and if you ask your doctor he will advise you which one to get. In giving the cereal, it is wise to have it made very thin, like gruel; in this form the child takes it more readily.

Occasionally one finds a baby who won't take cereal, for some reason or other. This child must be given his iron in some other way. In most such cases the problem can be solved by adding the yoke of an egg to the milk. Eggyoke is very rich in iron. The only difficulty I have found with this is that if the baby has a tendency toward eczema, egg yoke will make it worse.

I have occasionally found a child who couldn't take cereal, and who had eczema so badly that eggyoke was out of the question. These children can be kept from developing anemia by the addition of a doctor's prescription of iron which can be given in small doses, two or three times a day. As I have told you, we did this for the Quins. But as I have also tried to impress upon you, this is a problem for your doctor to solve.

The symptoms of anemia, when they begin to show in a baby, give ample time for the parents to do something for the child. The first noticeable symptom is that the baby is much paler than he should be. I will never forget the Quintuplets the day we moved them across the road to their new home; they were a sickly, pale, yellowish white, not in the least like the ruddy, healthy looking girls they are today. I can tell you we were very shocked when we got them in the light and saw the color they really were.

This pallor becomes more and more apparent if nothing is done for the child. In addition, the baby loses its ability to fight off infection. The result is that these babies suffer from repeated attacks of head colds, sometimes developing into pneumonia.

Rumania Wants To Pay War Debt

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 5—The note Rumania sent to the American government asking for a new basis for settlement of its $64,000,000 war debt was made public Thursday by Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

The note stated that the Rumanian government desires "to commence immediate negotiations...for the purpose of reaching a new agreement in respect to the debt owed by the Rumanian government to the government of the United States."

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1939 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

In his birthday parade Adolf Hitler flashed some new ten-inch guns which no doubt were supposed to throw a scare into any foreign onlookers. But they would be just pop-guns compared to the "Big Berthas" with which the Germans bombarded Paris.

And if you'll just stop to think about it, or run back through the files, the actual military damage inflicted on the Allies by these guns amounted to little. They did not break the French morale. They did not hot, as far as I recall, kill a single soldier. They did not affect the movements of troops or supplies and, in the end, so far as winning the war was concerned, they were merely a monstrous gesture.

It cost $7,000 to fire one shot from a "Big Bertha". Therefore the 367 shells which landed in Paris, in the four months starting March 2, 1918, cost Germany just $2,569,000. Falling on the Church of St. Gervais et St. Protias, when it was crowded with worshipers, a shell caused 125 casualties, killing five American women. Another shell nicked off the cornice of the Madeleine. These occurrences served to arouse the Parisians to fighting pitch, rather than to terrorize them. It probably brought less returns for money than any big-time gunnery ever attempted.

Firing the shells, at a cost of $7,000 a shot, was just a burnt match compared with the total cost of building and manning the seven "Big Berthas". These huge war machines of costly and complicated steel carriage-plates and steel carriages weighed many hundreds of tons. The barrel itself, with the muzzle straight up, reached as high as a ten-story building and weighed 200 tons.

The life of a gun was about 50 shots. Four wore out in the early stages of the bombardment and one exploded. Casting, setting up and operating one of these guns in the forest of St. Gobain was equivalent to establishing and maintaining a great industrial enterprise.

Dr. Fritz Rausenberger, professor of ballistics, developed the guns at the huge Krupp plant, and they were named after Bertha Krupp, heiress to the great armament fortune. Back of this quite futile effort, there was an amazing mobilization of brains and technics.

It was an alluring adventure in Schrechlichkeit, but it paid no dividends. The guns carried 73 miles, the projectile rising to a height of 25 miles. Aiming and sighting devices were extraordinarily complex and accurate. It was a marvelous victory for modern technology but not for the German arms. And how much less important it would be today, since the development of the 5,000-mile-range cannon—the bombing plane!

But, of course, its good strategy to flourish your most horrendous weapons when a potential enemy is standing by, as no doubt Herr Hitler knows well. Both of the axis powers have a marvelous histrionic sense and up to a certain point they are good psychologists. They have gone far in staging themselves as a Grade A menace, and they aren't a bit backward in telling the world about it. Witness Germany's wide open display of its bombing planes to all sundry.

They want the world to believe that they are a shade tougher than any gun-toting outfit. Sometimes it works and sometimes it doesn't. In his rhyme about the three sealers—poachers, incidentally—Kipling tells about a gun-scare that almost came off but failed in the end. Down on the British poaching vessel bore a ferocious man o' war, bristling with guns and cleared for action. The sealer ran like a rabbit, and then the sealer's captain had a second thought. Something had reminded him of a rival poacher, the Stralsund:

Faith, he has rigged her and trigged her with paint and spar,
And, faith, he has jaked her well;
But I'd know the Stralsund's deckhouse yet
From here to the booms of hell.

So the sealers turned back and knocked the daylights out of the fake warship with its wooden guns.

In times of war and rumors of war, good fakers score heavily. We ourselves did pretty well at it in the war of the revolution. Don't forget those phony wooden cannon with which our boys kept the British at bay at Fort Nonsense in Morristown. And don't be surprised if you hear that Herr Hitler has a cannon taller than the Empire State building with which he will shoot across the Atlantic.

No doubt those cannon in Hitler's parade aren't made of wood. But taking fighting tools as they are, they may represent more showmanship than crushing power.

VARIETY MEMBERS AT LAUDERDALE'S

ELLWOOD CITY, May 5.—In a charming manner, Mrs. Kenneth Lauderdale entertained members of the Variety club last evening at her home, in Crescent avenue.

Mrs. Paul Stasick and Mrs. Howard Young were presented nice prizes for high scores in cards. In serving, the hostess was aided by Mrs. Effie Dunkle.

Thursday, May 18, Mrs. Theodore Patterson will be hostess at her Todd avenue residence.

J. A. P. MEMBERS AT HARTZELL HOME

ELLWOOD CITY, May 5.—Mrs. Orintha Bishop was a special guest of the J. A. P. club whose members were welcomed last evening by Mrs. Harvey Hartzell at her home, in Perry street.

Chinese checkers was the diversion with the prizes going to Mrs. Jack Kimpel and Mrs. Samuel Straehler.

After the hostess served a tempting lunch, members departed to meet Thursday, May 18, at the home of Mrs. Alvin Neininger, of Bell avenue.

WURTEMBURG U. P.

Members of the Women's Missionary society of the Wurtemburg U. P. church were hospitably entertained by Mrs. Harry Fury of Wurtemburg last evening.

"Mile Posts of Racial Progress" was the topic presented by Mrs. W. L. Timblin as leader with all members participating.

The June meeting on Thursday, the first, will be held at the home of Mrs. R. H. Kirk.

HARDLY KNOW I HAVE A BACK SINCE VENDOL EASED MISERY

New Castle resident says he was seldom without dull, aching pains, and so stiff could barely stoop over. Feels just grand now.

MR. JOSEPH FRACUL

No matter where you go here in New Castle and nearby towns, you are almost sure to find someone who has taken Vendol and will testify to the wonderful relief it has given, in many instances after years of suffering. This was the case of Mr. Joseph Fracul of 1702 Hamilton St., New Castle, a Stone Dresser by trade, who gave a statement for publication to the Vendol Man in Eckerd's Cut Rate Drug as follows:

"I had suffered from many outward symptoms, but now I know they all came from being constipated and needing a good diuretic medicine for my kidneys. For the past few years I didn't enjoy a single meal, because more than likely I'd suffer soon afterwards with sourness, indigestion, gas and heart fluttering. I was highly nervous, too, and it seemed that I had to put up with spells of dizziness most every day. But worst of all was my back, which sometimes ached almost unbearably, feeling as though it were about to break in two. I often felt so stiff in my muscles that I could barely stoop over.

"I had tried various remedies recommended for these troubles, but it wasn't until I took Vendol that I found the relief I sought. I was really amazed when, after I'd taken only a few doses, my bowels began to move unusually thoroughly, pleasantly and actively. Soon I was again eating anything that struck my fancy without suffering in any way afterwards; my nerves were just as quiet and calm as they could be; the spells of dizziness simply seemed to leave me; and most wonderful of all, I don't know that I have a back now; that's how nicely those old aches have been relieved. Yes, it's a real pleasure to recommend a medicine like Vendol to my friends and the public."

Learn how Vendol can help you as it has so many people all around here. Come to Eckerd's Cut Rate Drug; meet the Vendol Man and let him tell you all about this medicine. Most all leading druggists now sell and recommend it.

CAMERA GROUP SEES WESTMINSTER FILMS

Eight hundred feet of colored films of activities at Westminster college were shown to New Castle Camera club members by Prof. Wallace R. Biggs, member of the school's faculty, in the club's Guerard building rooms. The club meets next on Wednesday, May 17. At that time the monthly print competition will be held with the topic "Harbinger of Spring."

No Peace Between C. I. O. And A. F. Of L. Is Near Says Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1939, Publishers Financial Bureau)

BABSON PARK, Mass., May 5.—There is no sign of peace this year between Mr. Green and Mr. Lewis. From 1935 through last Fall the C. I. O. group steadily gained ground on the A. F. of L. A year and a half ago Lewis was so strong that he threatened to merge the less picturesque A. F. of L. into his C. I. O. Cagey old William Green, however, called time out to take the edge off the Lewis drive. Meanwhile, the breaks began to go against the C. I. O. and Lewis has since been on the defensive. However, he is not yet licked by any means. Moreover, if a consolidation ever takes place, I do not think either Green or Lewis will be in the saddle.

BABSON

The Law of Action and Reaction works in human relations just as it does in physics and in economics. The public is badly fed up on the C. I. O. and its tactics. Lewis' movement, popular when it started, has made enemies of many former friends. While the public is not in love with the A. F. of L., at least the methods used by Mr. Green's group seem less obnoxious than those used by the more youthful C. I. O. crowd. This public raction is, therefore, having its effect on Lewis' power. What has happened the past week brings this out clearly.

Recession Slows Down C. I. O.

The business recession has given the Lewis unions some more bad jolts. The widespread lay-offs in the automobile and steel centers have strained the treasuries of the new C. I. O. unions. Because the A. F. of L. groups are older, they are richer than Uncle John's new unions. Their finances can stand the gaff of this slowing-down period of business better than can those of the C. I. O. To meet the reduction in income, the latter has had to let a lot of valuable organizers and other staff workers go. This has halted their drive for new members and has given them a definite setback in many plants where their roots were pretty well down a year and a half ago.

A third factor which may be the "button punch" for the belligerent Mr. Lewis was the strike in the soft coal fields. The money necessary to run his gigantic 1937 offensive against the motor and steel industries was put up largely by the United Mine Workers. They were the spearhead of the whole C. I. O. drive. I was curious as to whom Mr. Lewis was referring recently when he said that "outside interests" were backing up the rebellious bituminous mine operators. A little checking around reveals there is not much doubt as to whom John L. was referring. These "outside interests" are the big coal consumers such as the railroads, utilities, steel companies, and other large employers who simply cannot afford to pay any more for coal.

A Rear Guard Attack?

These consumers are large enough to take a great part of the output of a single coal mine. Hence, their bosses can talk turkey to the mine operators. These big consumers, inspired by Tom Girdler, Eugene Grace, and others, would like nothing better than to "put the finger" on the C. I. O. for once and for all. The Lewis adherents claim these large consumers of coal have stiffened up the backbone of the mine operators. The strike, with 340,000 miners out of work, has been a mighty costly affair for the United Mine Workers as well as for you and me. It has hit the Achilles heel of the C. I. O.—the treasury of the United Mine Workers.

The story is that if the "war chest" of the United Mine Workers can be destroyed, the C. I. O. will be ready for honest dealing. It is pretty well known that the millions of thrifty stockholders of this country feel that Mr. Green is fairer and more dependable than Mr. Lewis. Many impartial leaders believe that labor itself would, in the long run, be better off under a man like Mr. Green than under a man like Mr. Lewis. On the other hand, the vertical system of unionization which Mr. Lewis advocates is sounder than the horizontal system for which Mr. Green stands. Hence, if the A. F. of L. group win they must adopt the C. I. O. idea in order to avoid another fight later on.

What The Operators Say

The mine operators, however, insist that they have always been ready to renew the contract which expired April 1. Their story is that the A. F. of L. is "muscling in" on the C. I. O. with a new union in the coal fields. It is making progress and it worries Mr. Lewis. He wants to eliminate the fines imposed in the old contracts for unauthorized lockouts and strikes so that he can call his C. I. O. men out of any mine that hires an A. F. of L. worker. The operators have fought against throwing out these penalties. They believe that if both sides unite on a contract, both sides should be liable to the same penalty for breaking it.

The whole situation has been very interesting. On the surface, there is now absolutely no sign of a permanent armistice between these two major labor groups. But perhaps we are now witnessing strategy which in the end will bring peace—with the A. F. of L. securing the lion's share of the laurels. The fact that the average annual wage of the C. I. O. worker is $1,200 compared with $2,000 for the A. F. of L. worker has been a major stumbling block to date. The A. F. of L. members feel that they have nothing to gain and a lot to lose by joining up with the C. I. O. The latter group want to get together with the A. F. of L. but on their own terms. Hence, the deadlock.

Public "Holds The Bag"

Meanwhile, patient John Q. Public has been taking it on the chin as usual. The 340,000 idle miners were declared eligible for Unemployment Insurance Compensation. The unemployment fund, of course, represents the contributions of all workers. It was not set up to support strikes. Moreover, the coal tie-up has cost many railroad workers their jobs. Steel operations have dropped and general business has sagged 5 per cent. We need a labor act that will prevent such situations—one that will protect consumers and the jobs of innocent workers in other industries.

Production of certain foods are declining in Germany because of the shortage of labor and the "flight from the land."

Italy's new 300-mile road crossing the sun-scorched Danakil Desert to link Assab and Dessie is nearing completion.

Preliminary plans for the proposed addition to the court house have been presented to the county commissioners and the court by Architect Harry M. Wirsing and have received tentative approval. No formal approval can be made until the completed plans have been presented in the Court of Quarter Sessions.

Under the plans Mr. Wirsing has in mind the addition will provide some needed room. Two jury rooms will be provded to conform to the law. One will be for women jurors, something the court house has never had. Cots are provided for dormitory space so that juries which are locked up at night need not be taken to a hotel.

For the register and recorder the plans will include fire doors over the windows thus making the vault space fire proof. The same is true of the new quarters for the prothonotary and clerk of courts but in his case a fireproof vault will be built.

Work on the plans is going forward and it is probable that they will be presented to the June term of Quarter Sessions and if they are approved, bids for construction will be advertised.

Philip Stack of the Department of Revenue is in the court house checking personal property returns and calling in tax payers whose returns seem to be in question.

In the office of the register and recorder the following letters have been issued. Letters of administration to Edith Stickel in the estate of Sheridan Stickel, late of Slippery Rock Township, who died March 19, 1939.

Letters of administration have been issued to R. B. Luke in the estate of William O. Pugh, late of Ellwood City, who died September 13, 1938.

Letters testamentary have been issued to Marie Louise Fox in the estate of Albert Stanley Fox late of New Castle who died April 24, 1939.

Letters of administration have been issued to Ida Montgomery in the estate of J. H. Montgomery late of Shenango township who died February 25, 1939.

Letters testamentary have been issued to Milo D. Paden and Thomas L. Paden in the estate of Ida L. Paden, late of Mahoning township who died February 28, 1939.

Letters testamentary have been issued to Richard F. Dana in the estate of Joseph H. Kuhn late of Pulaski township, who died April 16, 1939.

Letters of administration have been issued to Mary J. Scherger in the estate of Thomas J. Bevan late of Lawrence County who died February 25, 1939.

Paul Works A Hard Field

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

"I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."—Phillippians 4:13.

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for May 7 is Acts 17:16 to 18-17; 1 Corinthians 2:1-5, the Golden Text being Phillippians 4:13. "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me.")

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Included in today's lesson is the story we told some weeks ago of Paul going to Athens and telling the Athenians about the "Unknown God," to whom he found they had raised an altar.

The lesson today is principally about Paul's labors in Corinth, which was the political capital of the Greeks, a large and important town, said to have been a wicked city, where vice ran rampant.

Paul went to the synagogue trying to convert the Jews by reasoning with them, but it was hard work and they were so opposed to his teaching and so blasphemous that he was much depressed—"pressed in spirit," the Bible says. Finally he lost his temper, "shook his raiment, and said unto them, "Your blood be upon your own heads; I am clean: from henceforth I will go unto the Gentiles'." He told them that he was through with them—at least for the time being—and that he would go out and try to save the Gentiles who might listen to him.

So he left the synagogue and went to the house of a man named Justus, who lived nearby, and who worshipped God with all his household. But one cheering thing was that Crispus, chief of the synagogue, believed on the Lord with all his house, and so did many of the Corinthians who, hearing the gospel, believed and were baptized.

Paul, being much depressed by the unbelieving Jews, had a vision in the night wherein the Lord appeared to him and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not they peace: for I am with thee: and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee: for I have much people in the city."

Even Paul, brave as he was, needed encouragement and assurance. The vision must have been a great confort to him, for he stayed in Corinth for about 18 months and established one of the strongest of the early churches and one which maintained its prestige for centuries.

Writing later to the Corinthians, Paul said: "And I, brethren, when I came to you, came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom, declaring unto you the testimony of God," and later in the letter, "And I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and much trembling."

Doesn't it seem to make this man, who is now called a saint, very human and near to us, when you read how nervous and timid he was when he entered this wicked city to convert its people? His fear did not prevent him from doing his work, however.

Writing later to Timothy, in the book of that name, the second epistle, he tells him to "endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ."

The last reference in the week's reading is Psalm 27, verses one to six. We cannot do better than to memorize these words:

"The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes, came upon me to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell. Though a host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear: though war should rise against me, in this will I be confident

"One thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after: that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to enquire in His temple. For in the time of trouble He shall hide me in His pavilion: in the secret of His tabernacle shall He hide me; He shall set me up upon a rock.

"And now shall mine head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me; therefore will I offer in His tabernacle sacrifices of joy; I will sing praises unto the Lord."

PLAINGROVE

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Meade Shoaff celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Saturday. A family dinner was observed at the noon hour. A three-tier wedding cake, with a miniature bride and groom, was the centerpiece on the table. Several baskets of flowers and plants were presented to the couple. Many beautiful gifts were also given them. The bridesmaid, Mrs. Katee Buxton of New Wilmington, was in attendance. About 103 people congratulated the couple during the reception hours and delicious refreshments were served by the daughters of the couple. People from Portersville, Grove City, Ashtabula, Erie, New Castle, Youngstown and Harlansburg were present.

4-H SEWING CLUB

The 4-H Sewing club met at the home of Madge Neely on Friday afternoon. Nine members answered the roll call. A short business meeting was held and the following officers were elected: President, Madge Neely; secretary, Doris Jean Watson; vice president, Lois McNulty; news reporter, Polly Rodgers; treasurer, Doris Watson; game leader, Imogene Minor; song leader, Evelyn Maxwell.

Aftewards the meeting was turned over to Miss Markel, state home economics teacher. Instructions for work for the summer and general discussion of the camp program took place.

The next meeting will be held at 9:30 o'clock on May 12 at the home of Madge Neely.

EXTENSION MEETS

The senior extension of Harlansburg and Plaingrove met at the Plaingrove school on Monday evening, under the direction of Miss Markel, the state teacher. Election of officers for the ensuing year resulted: President, George Walters; vice president, Robert Burns; secretary, Hannah Peebles. "Etiquette" was the topic for discussion. Games were played after the meeting.

The next meeting will be in June at Harlansburg. The Butler county extension were guests of the evening and gave some information on organizing the class.

PLAINGROVE NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Boyd of Pulaski were visitors in Plaingrove on Thursday.

Miss Nellie Foster of New Castle spent Sunday at the home of relatives here.

Little George Maxwell, who was run over by an automobile, is improving nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Eula Miles have returned to Pittsburgh, having visited several days with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Mont Barnes of Conneaut has returned home after spending several days at the home of relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Goodman and daughter Janet Lucille have returned to Pittsburgh, having spent their vacation at the home of their parents.

Calvin Winder, a student at the Louisville, Ky., seminary, has returned to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Winder, for the summer.

Dr. and Mrs. James Pollock of South Mountain have returned home after spending several days at the home of Mrs. Belle Pollock and Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Miles.

Those who attended the Y. P. C. U. party held at New Wilmington on Friday evening were Gertrude, Dorothea and James McKissick, Stella Adams, Mary Sankey, Grace Hogue and Mary Shoaff.

There will be no Y. P. C. U. at the U. P. church on Sunday evening as Robert Neighbor will have charge of the services. He also will have charge of the services on Saturday evening and Sunday morning.

Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Fulton and children have returned from Dunkirk, N. Y., where they were called by the illness and death of Mrs. William Rhodes, mother of Mrs. Fulton. Mrs. Rhodes was well known in this community as she had visited here several weeks during the last few years.

Young Progressives Initiates Members

Initiation of new members took place at the Young Progressives meeting in the club room on South Mill street Thursday evening at 8:30 with A. Gesue acting as herald of the ceremony.

Cosmo Galasso, president of the Sons of Italy lodge, was guest speaker and made fitting remarks at this time. Another speaker of the evening was Adolph DeGennaro, who spoke on "Leadership".

The election of officers will be held at the next regular meeting, May 21.

SLIGHT INJURIES

Shirley McVay, 6, Brinton avenue, suffered the loss of two teeth and sustained abrasions of the knee when she ran in front of the police patrol, driven by Arthur Harris, city parking meter employe, in East Washington street, according to a report made yesterday at police headquarters. A physician treated the girl, who was removed to her home.

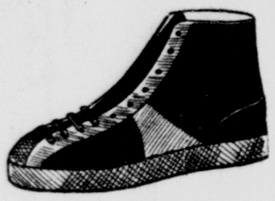

District Meeting For Scouters Held

District meeting for leaders in the Boy Scout movement here was held Thursday night at the First Christian church. Plans for summer activities for the troops were arranged.

Annual scout camporee dates were set for June 16 and 17. The camporee will be held this year at New Wilmington, with the troops there as hosts.

LOOKING FOR SOMETHING EXTRA? YOU'LL FIND IT IN THESE WAFERS MADE WITH EXTRA SHORTENING

EXTRA FLAKINESS—Every woman who bakes can tell at once that Sky Flakes contain extra shortening. Nothing else could make them so feather-light—give that delectable pastry-like richness.

EXTRA FRESHNESS—Sky Flakes come from a nearby NBC bakery. Are rushed to your grocer by a "super" delivery system. Their "oven-freshness" is protected by a triple-wrapped sealed package.

EXTRA VALUE—Because you get the extra quality that National Biscuit Company puts into all its products. The finest ingredients—better baking—superb packaging—unequalled delivery service.

EXTRA ENJOYMENT—with every bite. Sky Flakes' delicate finger length shape—their tender flakiness—lift every meal you serve them with "out of the ordinary."

Be extra smart this week-end. Order the generous pound package of Sky Flake Wafers from your dealer. Serve them with tomato juice—soups—salad.

SUGGESTION OF THE WEEK!
Slender, finger-shaped . . . Sky Flakes make delicious tea dainties when spread with cream cheese and sprinkled with chopped nuts. Mix cream cheese with a little cream so it spreads easily.

"SOMETHING SPECIAL" DESSERT!
Here's a real treat for the family that requires no fussing on your part. FIG NEWTONS—the finest fig cake made. Rich, tender cake and luscious fig filling.

COLLEGE STUDENT KILLED IN CRASH

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., May 5.—A Pennsylvania State college student hurrying to his home in Nottingham, Chester county, to attend his mother's funeral was killed on Thursday in an automobile crash at Tusseyville. The victim was Ernest A. Brown, a sophomore and passenger in a schoolmate's automobile which swerved to avoid another machine and struck a highway guard rail.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Start Preliminary Work On New Field

Council Grants Use Of Ground At End Of Clayton Street To Ball Team

Young men from the Seventh Ward Civics ball team and the Mahoning Methodist church team, have started preliminary work to build a ball field at the end of West Clayton street.

City council granted the use of this property for a ball field, providing the teams, interested, would stake out the site for the field.

Just as soon as this work is completed by the teams, Jack B. Brettell, city street commissioner will be called upto to send a city scraper and other equipment to the site to complete the job.

This new field will be used as the home field for both the Civics team and the Mahoning Methodist team.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath and members of council were in the ward this week to select a site for the ball field. They gave a favorable decision for the teams at their session Thursday morning.

Mahoning Track Team Ready To Enter Contests

Austin Cowmeadow, coach at the Mahoning Junior High school, today announced that everything is in readiness for the first track meet of the season.

This meet will be Saturday afternoon with Ben Franklin team at the Ben Franklin track. Another meet is scheduled at a later date with the George Washington Junior high school track team.

OFFICERS NAMED BY CLASS THURSDAY

Members of the McCoy Bible class of the Mahoning Methodist church, held a meeting Thursday night, at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Miller, Cherry street.

Election of officers was held as follows: President, Mrs. Fred Flowers; vice president, Mrs. William Moss; treasurer, Mrs. Harry Wylie; and secretary, Mrs. George Kutz.

Mrs. E. M. Johnston was co-hostess and she aided Mrs. Miller in serving a delicious luncheon. Mrs. W. C. Cavany and Mrs. Ralph Taylor were special guests.

Next meeting on June 1 will be in the form of a family tureen.

WILLING WORKERS MEET IN CHURCH

Members of the Willing Workers group of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church held a meeting in the church parlors, Wednesday evening, following regular mid-week service.

Plans for summer activities of the organization were made. Annual summer festival in June was also discussed and preliminary plans for the event made.

Next meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, June 7, in the church.

FLYING EAGLES ENJOY OUTING

Members of the Flying Eagle patrol of Boy Scouts Troop 4, met at the home of their leader, William Strohecker, Cherry street, Tuesday evening.

The boys hiked to the nearby hill that they had selected as a camping place. They built fires and had a weiner roast. A council fire was built and the Scouts gathered about this for a meeting and song fest.

Scribe, Robert Gilbert.

BIRD HOUSES

Many fine birdhouses erected in various sections of the Seventh Ward point to the indication that there are many bird lovers in the district. Several very attractive bird houses have been noted.

JUNIOR B-A DANCE

The Junior A Class acted as hosts to the Junior B class at a dance in the school gym on Thursday night, the fourth of May. More details of the party will appear in a later issue of the school news.

GIRL'S ATHLETIC CLUB

Members of the Girl's Athletic Club since the end of Easter vacation under the direction of their supervisor, Miss Margaret Fisher, have been busily preparing their very colorful gym exhibition, to be presented Monday and Tuesday, at 8:00 p. m.

HOME ECONOMICS

The girls of the Home Economics Department presented a skit over Station WKST on Wednesday, May 3, which explained the Vocational Home Economics course in our school and its value to the girls. Those who participated were: Marion Shaeffer, Edna Sheffler, Jane Elliott, and Sara Nickum. This program was under the supervision of Miss Ruth Wallace.

SENIOR HI-Y

The Senior Hi-Y met Wednesday evening, May 3 with President Everette Hoffman presiding. The meeting was opened with the reading of devotionals by Daniel O. Pisor. The group decided to hold a party in the near future for the Senior A boys who are graduating. A committee consisting of Jack Matthews, Joe Palusak, and Bob Edmunds was appointed to make the necessary arrangements. The meeting was then brought to a close.

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club held their regular bi-weekly meeting Wednesday morning, May 3 with Tom Wilcox presiding. Emma Schuller read the minutes of the last meetings and they were approved as read. As there was no important business the club spent the rest of the meeting in a word contest with Prentice Stenger, Pauline Lenart, Eleanor Eckles, Marvena Stenger, Emma Schuller, John Walzer, Louis Finch and Betty Mack taking part. Those coming in first were Pauline Lenart, Eleanor Eckles and Betty Mack and those coming in second were Louis Finch and Emma Schuller. Miriam Shaffer received the prize in the audience. The contest was under the direction of Willard Tanney. Following the contest there was held a general word game under the direction of Miss Riffer, the supervisor of the club.

DIE ROLLSCHLITTSCHUHPARTEI

On Thursday, April 27, the German Club and Chorus held their combined skating party at the Arena. A very large group turned out and everyone thoroughly enjoyed himself.

The party was under the supervision of Miss Riffer and Mr. Duff.

CLASS MEETING

The Senior B Class held a meeting in the auditorium Thursday morning, May 4, with the president, James Hewitt, presiding. Devotions were in charge of Joanna Hood. The secretary, Shirley Potter, read the minutes of the last meeting which were approved as read. The treasurer, Gladys "Dee" Moore then gave the financial report of the class. Mr. McKenzie of the faculty, talked to the class about the sale of auto tags which it is planning to take up in the near future. The president then announced the following committee which is to have charge of the selling of the auto tags: Sam George, Betty Jane Davis, Oliver Kerr, Guy Graziani, Rugh Everhart, Joanna Hood, Marian Hughes, Bob Edmunds, Dave Schoenfeld, Ethel Uber, James Nucci, Jean Dufford, Ruth Peterson, Jean Chapman, Dorothy Connor, Harry Booth, Jack "Chic" Williams, Tom Clark.

Mrs. Matheny addressed the class briefly and then the meeting adjourned.

GIRL RESERVE-HI-Y QUESTION BEE

Monday evening the Girl Reserves acted as hostess to the Hi-Y boys. The meeting was called to order by the Girl Reserve president, Emma Schuler. Betty Raney then led in the litany for the Girl Reserve Recognition Service. The secretary's report was read by Esther Chill, and Betty Raney read her treasurer's report. President Schuler then gave several announcements, after which members of both clubs participated in a question bee, with Miss Geraldine Turk acting as professor. Those taking part were Doris Leddy, Maxine Gilihand, Georgiana Truby, Audrey Bridenbaugh, Max Luikart, Dave Jenkins, Dave Taylor and Everett Hoffman. At the close of the meeting, the judges, Miss Bartlett and Charles Burton, pronounced the boys to be the winners, after which everyone enjoyed a refreshing bottle of pop.

JUNIOR B CLASS MEETING

The Junior B class meeting was held Wednesday, April 26th, in the auditorium with President James Rucker presiding. James Temenski, vice president; June Alexander, treasurer; and Audrene Gribbel, secretary were introduced to the class by President Rucker after which devotionals were conducted by Jean Allen. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary and the treasurer gave a report on the financial standing of the class. The following program announced by President Rucker was presented:

Piano solo, "Manhattan Serenade"—Harriet Silverman.

Dialogue, "Girls will be Girls"—Carolyn Cosel and Gladys Brown.

Song, "Come Down Laughing Streamlet"—Julia Johns.

In conclusion, Miss Marjory Rhodes spoke on school tradition. Donald Copson is the supervisor of the class.

STUDENT COUNCIL

President Jack Matthews opened the weekly meeting of the Student Council in the teacher's lunch room on Wednesday morning. The minutes were read by Jean Margaret Dufford. As the minutes were approved as read by Miss Dufford, the council proceeded with its business problems. President Matthews called on the various committees for the Spring Dance to account for the work they have accomplished thus far. The president stated that a lengthy discussion on the Student Court would be held at the next meeting. Howdy Lyons, as chairman of the Student Court committee, gave his weekly report on the court. The meeting was adjourned by President Matthews after a motion to that effect was made by Beatrice Saylor and seconded by Howdy Lyons.

Britain Forwards Reply To Russia

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 5.—Diplomacy became a swift-moving picture today as Britain, acting to gain the upper hand over Germany, sent a reply to Russia's proposals for formation of an anti-aggression alliance.

Britain's answer had been delayed for weeks after Russia insisted that security guarantees include not only Europe, but Siberia's frontiers as well. Germany's success in negotiating provisional non-aggression agreements with Latvia and Estonia, however, spurred Britain into quicker action.

Today the foreign affairs committee of the cabinet, composed of key ministers, met and approved the draft of the reply to Moscow. It was forwarded at once to Sir William Seeds, the British ambassador.

BARBER SHOP CLOSING HOUR LAW ARGUED

Whether or not the city of New Castle can set the closing hours for barber shops in the city was before Judge W. Walter Braham today. The case is an appeal by Frank Sullivan from a fine by Mayor Charles E. McGrath for keeping open after 6 p. m. in violation of a city ordinance. The violation occurred on August 5, 1938.

With City Solicitor Gilbert Long, were Attorneys John S. Powers and Frank O. Moretti, representing some of the barbers. The city called no witnesses, merely putting into evidence the ordinance and the facts of the arrest and fine.

For Sullivan, Attorney Edwin K. Logan called the defendant, Charles O'Brien and J. F. Genkinger, who testified to the kind of a shop operated by Mr. Sullivan. In the argument Mr. Logan held that the act of the General Assembly permitting cities to pass such ordinance was unconstitutional. He held that public health or morals were not adversely affected if a barber shop remained open in the evening.

For the city Mr. Moretti argued that the city was justified in such an ordinance in that it protected barbers from unfair competition. Judge Braham will hand down a ruling later.

DRESS UP CITY FOR ROTARY MEET HERE NEXT WEEK

New Castle's downtown section today donned its gay convention attire again for the coming next week—on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday—of a host of Rotarians and Rotary Anns from scores of cities and towns throughout Northwestern Pennsylvania. Street decorations were beginning their job.

The city on those three days will be host to the second annual conference of Rotary International's 175th convention district.

On all fronts the convention arrangements were being whipped into shape. General Chairman J. Lee McFate is in command and serving under him are a host of committee lieutenants.

Program plans for the three-day meeting have been completed.

A critic says you can recognize any piece of music after the first four bars. After fours bars it's usually sweet Adeline.

Missionary Union Fellowship Tea Is Noteworthy Affair

Fifty women, representing different church denominations, participated in a fellowship tea in the Central Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon, sponsored by the Missionary Union of this city.

The program included prayer by Mrs. C. H. Heaton, piano solos by Mrs. Charlotte Emery and Miss Violet Shuler, vocal selections by Mrs. L. Paul Friend, accompanied by Miss Barbara Schulz, original readings by Mrs. Grant E. Fisher, and closing prayer by Mrs. Chalres N. Moore. Tea was served at the close.

Favor Johnstown In Derby Classic

Expect Throng Of 100,000 At Famous Churchill Downs For Kentucky Derby

HOT FIELD TO GO TO BARRIER

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5.—A probable record crowd, perhaps as many as 100,000 tense spectators, will pack old Churchill Downs to the creaking and bulging point tomorrow evening when at about sundown that bugle will blow bringing to the post a customarily choice field for the $50,000 Kentucky Derby Soon thereafter, out over the blue grass country will roll a roar heralding for the sixty-fifth time the winner of America's greatest and most colorful horse race.

Soon thereafter, too, the grief around here is going to be heartrending and the hitch-hiking epidemic unless Johnstown's number goes up.

Over innumerable juleps and far into several dawns, the holiday crowd of turf followers and the vacationists here simply for the ride have arranged everything for one of the major upsets in the history of this historic one-and-a-quarter mile fixture if any of the others in a probable field of 10 three-year olds comes pounding home in front of Belair Stud's record-cracker.

He's a kick in the pants, they tell you, unless showers which were forecast should slop up the racing strip. Then there might be a switch to Challedon or to any of the rest from among these remaining nominees:

Certain starters—Johnstown, El Chico, Technician, Challedon, T. M. Dorsett, Heather Broom, Viscounty, Xalapa, Clown, and On Location.

Slovaks Banking On Fine Pitchers

The Slovak A. C. baseball team is banking on its fine pitching staff to put them in the thick of the City Baseball league pennant fight this year, Steve "Snag" Russell said today.

The players have completed the fixing up of the Clifton Flats Field and workouts are being held daily. The team is slowly rounding into shape for the opening of the league on Sunday, May 14.

On the trusty arms of the following pitchers will the success of the Slovak team depend—Johnny Carik, Lenhart, Jim Balla, Spud Badurik, Anderson and Twee Janoski. These are the chuckers that Manager Russell will carry this summer.

INDIES TRIP CAPS

The New Castle Indies went on a hitting spree yesterday at Washington High Field and won from the North Hill Red Caps 12 to 5. The Indies found Headland for 13 bingles while the losers had eight hits off of Santangelo. Tonight at Washington High Field, the Indies meet the Rose Bowlians.

Gall-Mescall Counted Upon To Aid Tigers

William "Bill" Gall a utility infielder with experience at short or first base is a veteran of quite a few years of baseball on the west side and is still considered a valuable asset to the up and coming young West Side Tigers ball club of the City League.

When Gall moves over to short, Manager Tommy McCormick or Howard Rote just call on Joe Mescall and the young man who started out to be a pitcher, can be used at the initial station and can handle himself nicely. Both Gall and Mescall are dependable in the pinches when the Tigers need runs.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Met Don Buckley of Youngstown at the St. Lawrence Parish boxing bouts, Wednesday night. He fought here some years ago. . . . The Jack ONeil team won the duck-pin title of the McCoy's City league and not the ten-pin title as stated Thursday. . . . Enroute to New Castle from Hillsville, Tom McMahon, local referee, recalled the bout between Carl Cialella (Young Buffalo) and Buck Bradshaw, who now is in the Pittsburgh vicinity. . . . That night Buck could not find boxing shoes that fit him. He entered the ring wearing his street shoes. . . . Talking of shoes, Paris Kid Cangey recalled a few days ago when we gave him the shoes we once used while refereeing: "I never lost a fight while I wore them," the former "Poison Drop" puncher declared. . . . Frankie Ross informs us that two former boxers are now working together. They are George Perotta and Claude Davis. Both fought in the same ring, the same night, against different opponents in Cascade Park, Ross stated.

George Blake who refereed the Young Stribling vs. Max Schmeling and Joe Louis-Jack Roper fights, refereed the bout between Tom McMahon and Sam Langford in California. . . . The writer is glad to hear that Jimmie Dime, veteran manager of boxers and a keen tutor of punch is recovering in his Laurel boulevard home following a serious illness. Fans hope he is sufficiently recovered to attend the Arena bouts, May 15. . . . There were three members of the Zivic family to take to boxing, Pete, Jack and Fritzie. . . . Norman Micco's bout against Kayo Finn drew a fairly good house in Hillsville, considering it was the first time he had appeared in a public scrap. He has a splendid physique. His foe, Finn, cagey veteran, knew the questions and answers in the amateur bout. . . . Whenever one finds bowlers, either dux or ten-pinners, he will find good sportsmen and it is one sport in which both men and women may participate with beneficial results. . . . Joe Reiber is a keen follower of bowling.

It is unlikely that any wrestling matches will be staged here. Peter Askounes was a game "guy." He promoted wrestling for months, although he was thrown for a fall in almost every bout. Had it not been for the "overhead," the exhibitions might have been fruitful. . . . Dougherty of Ellwood City, is one of the best of judges of boxing hereabouts. He pays attention only to the fighters and what few boohs he does receive roll off his back. Met Mike Conti in Hillsville. He is well known and liked in all sections of the county. . . . Ernie List of Hillsville is a bowler. Throughout the winter a crowd of bowlers each Saturday came to the city to roll [illegible] local alleys. . . . Clyde Le[illegible] chauffeured us several nights ago and he handles an auto like nobody's business. He thought he was lost several times but he knows his roads.

Larry Regal of Butler will train in Ellwood City for his bout here May 15, according to Jack Hardy, his manager. . . . Frankie Lands, former fighter, now a city employe, is yet the likeable lad he was when he handed out jolts. Frankie battled some tough foes and always put up a good fight. . . . Met Scoots Hood sunning himself on East Washington street. Twenty-five years ago Scoots and the rest of the boys had a bench at Apple alley. Billy Glenn's peanut wagon was there. Whenever Billy or his employe wanted relief, one of the boxers would dish out the peanuts. . . . Remember "Goo" Stewart. A report comes he is living in Wheeling. He was a featherweight. . . . If Old Sol continues to shine it won't be long until turtle soup and "fat-back" outings start. Cowden Moore, former marathon racer, who came to town yesterday, says the turtles are beginning to move. Adolf Lang has one that is going to make some nice soup some of these days.

A report comes from Butler that a fisherman there caught a six-pound sucker. . . . A few days ago Havey J. Boyle, sports editor, carried a story, describing the woes of a matchmaker. Having had such a role for years, the writer agrees that Boyle had the right "dope." Making matches between professional fighters is a real task and sometimes what looks good on paper turns out to be a poor bout.

Even ignorance has its uses. Few people could discuss foreign matters so freely and volubly without the aid of their ignorance.

Church Golf League Opens

Over 70 Church Golfers Swarm Over Fairways At Castle Hills On Thursday Night

The sixth annual New Castle Church Golf League with over 70 members out, swarmed over the fairways of the Castle Hills golf course last night in the start of the 1939 season. Three teams—Mahoning Churches, First Presbyterians and St. Marys ended the first night all tied up with three and a half points apiece.

Medalist honors went to T. Caldwell of the St. Marys team with a 36, while Izzy Solomon of Temple Israel banged a 38 and "Bobby" Mackie of Trinity clipped off a 39, Hackett Kennedy registered a 40.

The league will play again next Thursday night at the Castle Hills course at 5:30 o'clock.

Results last night: Mahoning churches topped First Christians 3½ to 2½, Highland U. P. and First U. P. split 3-3, First M. E. and Trinity split 3-3, First Presbyterians 3½ Temple 2½, St. Marys 3½-St. Josephs 2½

Pirates Hand Phils Defeat

Tobin Pitches And Hits Homer; Yanks Hand Defeat To Bobby Feller

BROOKLYN DODGERS TOP CHICAGO CUBS

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 5.—Judged by their early season performances, the major league rookies of 1939 may prove to be the best crop sent up by the minors in several years.

Offhand, one may name at least a score of them who have been throwing their weight about, as the British put it, and not a day goes by without a few of them making the headlines for their game-winning efforts.

Game Rained Out

Seven games were played yesterday—the Reds and Bees being frozen out again in Boston—and five of them were won by rookies from the aforementioned group.

The White Sox beat the Senators, 4-3, and two of the Sox runs rode in on a homer by rookie Sylvestri.

The Browns walloped the Athletics, 9-3. Rookie Kramer held the A's to eight hits while his buddy, rookie Mazzera, hit a pair of homers.

The Red Sox nosed out the Tigers, 7-6, on two homers by rookie Williams, good for five runs.

Yanks Top Indians

Only the Yanks need pay no special homage to a rookie for their 10-inning 10-6 victory over the hapless Indians, but even in this game rookie Keller of the Yanks helped the cause with two hits.

The Giants spotted the Cardinals three runs and then beat them, 6-3, as rookie Manuel Salvo outpitched the veteran Lon Warneke.

The Pirates beat the Phils, 6-4, on homers by Tobin and Rizzo.

Yes, those are our dear old Dodgers up there in a three-way tie for second place today as the result of a 6-2 victory over the Cubs.

Track Meet At Taggart Field

There will be a Mahoning-Franklin high track and field meet at Taggart field on Saturday morning starting at 9 o'clock, with 19 events listed on the program. Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh of senior high will be the starter. Bill Wallace will act as timer. Finish judges will be Bill Klee, Art Alexander, Gig Thomas. Field judges will be George Binder, Paul Cuba and Francis DeSanctis.

Girls Softball Meeting Tonight

There will be an important meeting at the "Y" tonight of all girl softball teams in the city interested in forming a Girls City League here this summer.

Tonight will be the final meeting prior to the start of the season. No teams will be admitted after tonight, according to Rocco P. Viggiano president of the league.

MOOSE BOWLERS GET 2,699 SCORE IN A. B. C. EVENT

New Castle's lone entry in the colorful American Bowling Congress, the Loyal Order of Moose team, rolled a 2,699 score Thursday night in Cleveland. Tonight the locals bowl in the singles event.

High Track Team At Grove City

Local Thin Clads At Grove City Today For Second Meet Of Season

New Castle High School track and field team went to Grove City shortly after noon today for a meet this afternoon with the Grove City High team coached by Joe Hartman, former New Castle boy. The meet was scheduled to start at 3 o'clock.

The local thin clads after a disappointing start at Meadville on Wednesday will try hard this afternoon to make up for the defeat, and hand the strong Grove City High squad a licking on the cinders.

Pacing the local team will be Jim "Speed" Toler, the lad who burned up the track at Meadville on Wednesday with firsts in the 100, 220, and 440 to turn in 15 of the New Castle points and be high individual scorer.

WESTMINSTER GOLF TEAM WILL PLAY

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 5.—A new and inexperienced Westminster college varsity golf squad will play host to Slippery Rock's linksmen on the New Castle Field Club course, Saturday afternoon, May 6.

Although the starting Titan lineup is uncertain, early-week trial rounds point to William Clark, New Wilmington, Robert Erzinger, Peoria, Ill., John Gasparich, Oakmont, John Lardin, Natrona, and playing manager Robert McFarlane, Yonkers, N. Y., as probable varsity performers.

FANNIN TEAM TO GATHER TONIGHT

The Fannin softball team of the Class B softball league will have a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the home of Frank Fannin for the purpose of getting measured for new uniforms.

The following boys will report at the meeting: Fazzone, Marino, Johns, Robinson, Laitenen, Hook, Gender, Greer, Kelley, Schilla, LaTess, Wehr, Schenckler, Theopolis, Christopher, Kimmel, Eckles, and Cowden.

WILLARD HERE ON BUSINESS TRIP

Jess Willard, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, is in the city, having come here on business. Jess spent the winter with Jack Dempsey, who won the title from the Kansan then went to New York to which place he will return after attending to his affairs here.

FIND POISON CACHE

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore., May 5.—Enough poison to wipe out all the rodents in the city—1,200 pounds—was found under the front porch of a vacant house when a tiny tot carried a carton of it home and gave it to his horrified mother. Officials were unable to expalin how the cache came to be hidden in the neighborhood.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Local sports shorts....Quite a few local baseball fans watched the Youngstown Browns battle Erie in the Ohio city, Wednesday. Henry Marshall of Hillsville playing with Erie, banged out three singles in four trips to the platter....Miss Betty Voynik, local bowling ace, came in third in a recent duckpin tourney in Pittsburgh. She toppled 465 pins....Dr. Henry Sloan, a dyed in-the-wool fan, is in possession of the letter from baseball's high commission, K. M. Landis. Recently, Dr. Sloan sent in a suggestion relative to the "bean ball." Landis acknowledged the letter and assured the local man that his suggestion will be presented to the rule makers. Dr. Sloan suggests that a batter hit by a pitched ball should be awarded two bases and possibly three, if he is the victim of the bean ball.... The umpire will be the deciding factor....

Many batters get hit....Baseball's statistics reveal that more than 350 batters were hit by pitched balls in the majors in 1938. These figures lead one to believe that many of the players were victims of the "bean ball," in baseball jargon, this type of a delivery is "a ball thrown close to a batter's head to intimidate him." It is surprising that the game has escaped with so few serious injuries. A few twirlers use this pitch to scare an upcoming rookie. It causes a mental hazard, an ailment which has defeated many talented youngsters. Already this year, Al Simmons, of the Bees, and Lee Handley of the Bucs, have been dropped by pitches. Although proof can't be established that a hurler tossed a "beaner" a sour taste is left in the mouth of the player who is dropped by a pitched ball. In Detroit recently, Johnny Berardino was dropped twice. Fred Haney, fiery Brown's manager, climbed out of the dug-out and put up quite a "beef" telling Del Baker that he did not want to lose "that kid." Scribes generally agree that there is no need for hitting a batter, A Major league pitcher has, or should possess, control. A few serious mishaps will cause the rule makers to get together and do something to alleviate the situation.....

Diamond odds and ends....Luke Sewell, who has been added to Cleveland's catching staff, has been drawing down something like $12,500 for being a bull pen catcher.... Thomas Austin Yawkey, millionaire owner of the Boston Red Sox, once played second base for Yale University....Jack Russell is one of the work horses of the National loop. Last season, he participated in 42 games, performing as a Cub relief chucker. A broken finger, suffered in a high school game, caused Russell to forsake the chalklines for the diamond....During a recent batting practice, the Gabby Hartnett stepped into three of "Dizzy" Dean's throws and laced them over the walls. One of the wallops landed in almost the same spot as did the four players which beat Pittsburgh in the last week of baseball last year.

TITANS TO PLAY

FISHES BODY OF MAN FROM RIVER

(International News Service)

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., May 5.—Frank Evans, 15, fishing in the Ohio river Thursday, felt a tug at his line and pulled up—a drowned man.

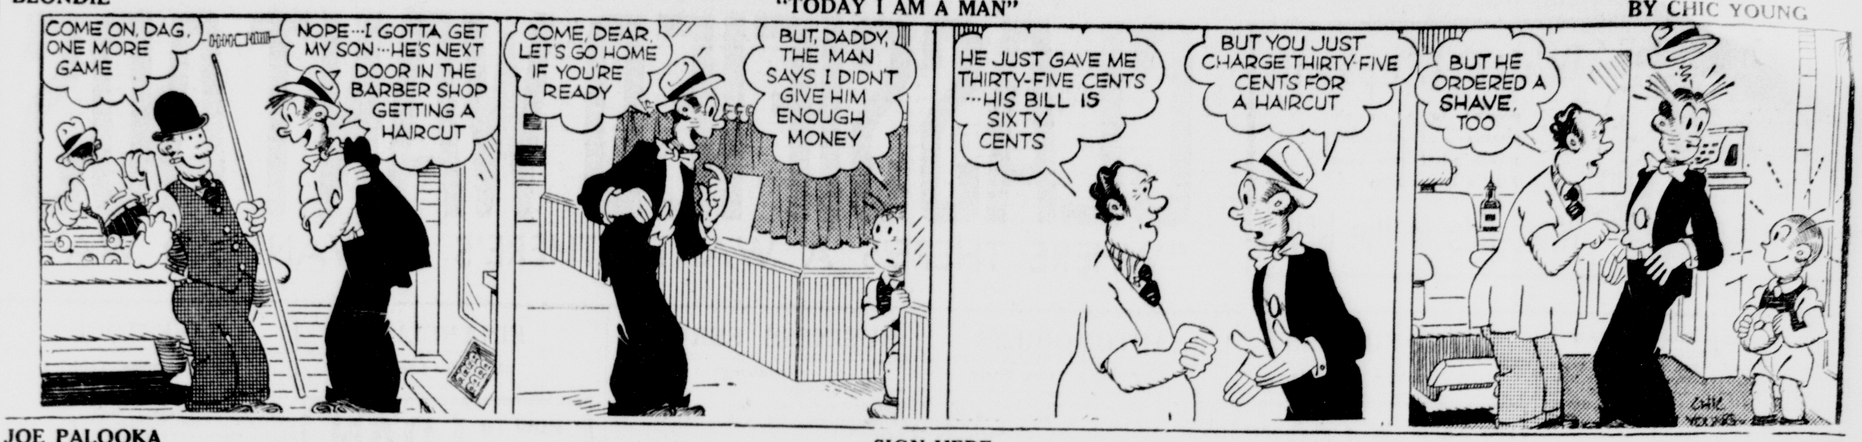

Authorities said there were no identification papers in the man's clothing.

The elephant sleeps either standing or lying down. However, in captivity it often does not lie down for weeks at a time. There have been elephants which have been known to remain on their feet for five years.

Money To Loan

HOW TO GET A LOAN at lower rates

You Borrow	18 monthly payments including interest and principal*
$ 60	$ 4.36
70	5.09
80	5.82
100	7.27
150	10.77
200	14.18
300	20.91

*18th payment varies from these figures. Interest is figured at 3% monthly on balances of $100 or less, 2% on balances above $100 to $300. This is below the lawful maximum on all loans over $100.

To apply: Phone or visit office. You answer a few questions. Our representative visits your home. You sign the papers and get the money, usually the same day. No endorsers or co-makers. No credit inquiries of neighbors. Repay monthly.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL.

Flash . . . what prominent New Castle man expects to surprise his friends next week by walking down the aisle?

We have been operating a dog exchange for some months but we are somewhat up a tree so to speak . . . we have on hand quite a list of folks who want to give dogs away, but the list of folks who want dogs is rather low . . . so if any of you want a dog . . . just plain dog . . . write this desk and we will do our best to fulfill your order.

* * *

Traveling through the country last night brought to mind the thoughts we have heard about folks working long hours . . . One farmer of our acquaintance started to work yesterday morning at day break . . . he milked his cows and then he started in to plow with a high powered tractor . . . he plowed all day yesterday, not stopping to eat lunch, when we left him last night at nine o'clock he was still on the tractor . . . and he expected to finish and have his field ready to plant today. Now folks those are long hours, but he was happy and we hope that each and every farmer will have good crops this year.

We have read several articles the past few weeks concerning the offer made by the Brazil government. They say that their opportunities are unlimited and they are willing to stake anyone to a piece of property. Why would anyone leave this great United States when our country is comparatively unsettled in parts? What other country has the opportunities that we have here?

* * *

Tonight at the Senior High School a play will be in progress . . . it will be the dramatic swan song for the graduating class of June 1939 . . . A large crowd is expected.

* * *

The first of the summer activities will be the Rotary District conference which will be held next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. A large crowd is expected and the Rotarians are planning great things. New Castle has proven in the past very pleasing to convention groups . . . our fame is spreading wide and far.

* * *

May we suggest that you read the classified ads daily . . . they really are interesting.

STOCKS

Market Drifts Slightly Lower

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, May 5.—The stock market drifted a little lower today after opening generally higher, as trading was maintained at an extremely sluggish pace.

Initial firmness reflected slight improvement in foreign markets prior to the opening here. Polish Foreign Minister Beck's reply to German demands on Danzig was considered conciliatory and failed to create a much of a stir in world speculative markets.

A few representative issues dropped as much as a point in the late forenoon recession, but changes generally were limited to fractional proportions. A handful of stocks retained plus signs.

Zoning And Parking Meter Questions Before Ellwood City Council

ELLWOOD CITY, May 5.—A resolution that a zoning commission be named to make a preliminary survey prior to the passage of a zoning ordinance was adopted at the May meeting of the Ellwood City council on Thursday night.

The commission, to be composed of five members, will be appointed by the council at a special session within the next ten days.

There is a possibility that Ellwood City may have parking meters in the future months as a recommendation of the police committee that they be given power for the purchasing and installation of meters from Fourth to Eighth street on Lawrence avenue and other places where needed was presented. Without discussion the matter was referred to the police committee for further study.

The rules and regulations committee was given power to act on a recommendation that Emmett Rocco, Charles Watterson and George Burrows be made caretakers of Ewing Park grove during the necessary months at a salary of $70 per month.

That penalties and interest be waived on delinquent paving and tax liens of more than three years standing until December 31 was presented by the finance committee. Councilman Greenham said that there is between 40 and 50 thousand dollars outstanding on street assessments and urged that it be collected. No action was taken.

Bids for the paving of Center avenue and Pittsburgh Circle and materials for repairs to curbs and sidewalks were opened and given to the proper committee for study. All of the work is to be done through WPA projects. Bids for insurance were opened and given to the rules and regulations committee for a report.

The secretary was instructed to advertise for bids for a police car, in which a radio system can be installed. Bids will be re-advertised for a truck for the street department.

A petition submitted for the grading and improving of Clover avenue with amiesite was given to the street committee. A communication from J. A. Evans, president of the Chamber of Commerce, requesting the widdening of Border avenue, in front of the hospital, was given to the street committee. Recommendations for the improvement of Sixth street between Crescent and Wayne avenue; Crescent avenue between Seventh and Ninth streets, and Chestnut way between Sixth and Seventh streets with asphalt covering were approved.

Property owners will be notified to make repairs to sidewalks and Councilman R. B. Curry was delegated to inspect the sidewalks about town.

A communication from the recreation committee asking that they be given power to approve such projects as a dam across the Connoquenessing creek at Ewing Park for a swimming pool was given approval.

The Ellwood City Master Plumbers association attended the meeting and by their secretary, A. W. Richards, asked the board to adopt the state sanitary plumbing code. After lengthy discussion the health committee was instructed to meet with the plumbers. Adoption of the code would necessitate the hiring of a city inspector.

Rules and regulations were suspended and ordinances calling for the grading and paving of Madison avenue extension and the continuance of Pershing street to Fountain avenue were passed on second and final reading.

An ordinance passed on first reading last October concerning the placing of banners and signs on the white way poles was brought before the council at the insistence of Councilman Biordi and was referred to the police committee and burgess for a further report.

The electric committee was given power to have a street light placed in Spring avenue near the Seidel Coal company.

Elden Danner, Boy Scout commissioner, spoke briefly concerning the formation of a service corps in the city.

The matter of the sewage disposal plant improvement was withheld owing to the fact that the designer, Alex Main, was unable to attend the meeting.

A petition from the department of public assistance asking for a room in the city building to be used for distributing perishable commodities to families on relief was received and given to the rules and regulations committee with power to act. In objecting, Councilman Fike said: "If any more rooms are wanted, we might as well turn the building over to the WPA and move out."

Authorization of N. Y. A. projects was given. One will be for hospital services and the other for recreation services at Ewing Park.

From the Full Gospel Tabernacle being erected in Lawrence avenue came a request to place a canvas top over the building until steel beams can be secured. The request was returned and it must be approved by the state.

Taxes for April amounted to $530. Total fines, costs and forfeits amounted to $29.50. There were no fires during the month of April. Four cases of scarlet fever, four of chicken pox and 10 of measles were shown in the health officer's report.

Merry Program For Rotarians

Miss Jane Stevenson And Robert Stevenson Provide Weekly Entertainment

ELLWOOD CITY, May 5.—A farcical impeachment proceedings provided merry entertainment for the Rotarians at their dinner meeting last evening in the Presbyterian church. Inasmuch as the musical program by the ladies trio, Mrs. W. E. Mitchell, Mrs. Bernie Osterhouse, Jane Stevenson and Robert Stevenson, accompanist and piano soloist, could not be presented, a substitute program was presented by Jane Stevenson and Robert Stevenson.

Edward Mackasek, chairman of the program committee, had charge of the impeachment proceedings. In spite of Herculean efforts to prosecute the impeachment and grandiloquent oratory, he succeeded only in drawing a fine of ten cents upon himself, for undue exaggeration of a small matter. The musical program consisted of a group of songs by Miss Jane Stevenson, a piano solo by Robert Stevenson, and a second group of songs by Miss Stevenson, all of which were enthusiastically received.

On account of the conference in New Castle next week, there will be no meeting of the local club.

Harold Caplan gave a report on developments in regard to the District Conference in New Castle, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. President Burns is naming the delegates to the New Castle conference and, also, to the Cleveland International Conference, or convention, which will be held in June.
